WILSON PROCLAIMS PEACE TOWARD MEXICO

Message Expresses Sympathy for Rebellion-Torn Republic.

Formally Declares Against Recognition of Huerta Regime.

POLICY OF NON-INTERFERENCE

The President Having Expressed His Mexican Views to Committeeman Will Read His Message to Congress Today.

Washington, Aug. 25.—President Wilson will read his message on the Mexican situation at the capital tomorrow. This was decided at midnight, following the receipt of a message from John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson in Mexico that he had said good-bye to foreign Minister Gamboa and would leave Mexico City tomorrow. Negotiations, so far as Mr. Lind is concerned have been terminated. The United States will receive any further proposals through Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy, of the American embassy.

The policy of the United States was outlined to the members of the two Congressional committees of foreign relations today at a conference at the White House by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan. The President message received practically unanimous approval. The future course of this government will be one of non-interference in the effect that the effect of the present efforts and the pressure of foreign governments will constitute a moral suasion that ultimately will bring about peace in Mexico.

The message makes it plain that there will be no lifting of the army, that no faction or government in Mexico will be allowed to receive ammunition from the United States. If necessary the President proposes to increase the American border patrol to enforce this policy.

President Wilson read tonight to the members of the Senate committee on foreign relations and the House committee of foreign affairs, Republicans as well as Democrats, parts of the message on the Mexican situation which he will deliver in person to a joint session of both Houses of Congress.

It is a message of friendship, not hostility, and precedes a policy of absolute non-interference. It proclaims to the world the sympathetic feeling that the United States Government and the American people have for their neighbors in the rebellion-torn Republic South of the Rio Grande. It records the views of the United States on Constitutional government, its unalterable opposition to governments set up by the irregular and arbitrary acts of ambitious individuals and formally announces that the government of Victoriano Huerto shall not be recognized. The efforts of the United States to bring out a peaceful settlement of the difficulty through the representations made by John Lind, special envoy of President Wilson are outlined, as well as the answer of the Huerta Government.

Foreigners Support America's Policy.

The United States had proposed that a constitutional election be held, and that Huerta should not be a candidate. To these suggestion which the United States believes could be restored, Huerta has replied in the negative. Foreign government generally since the rejection have been active in support of the American policy to persuade Huerta to yield. There was still some hope at the White House tonight that word of concessions may be telegraphed from Mexico City before the President goes to the Capitol tomorrow to read his message, and perhaps result in an abandonment of the idea at this time.

The delivery of the message is an essential factor in the programme of the American government before the world. It is not a preliminary to any drastic measures, however, it is merely the announcement of a policy which will be maintained for years if necessary until constitutional government shall be re-established in Mexico.

The Effect Desired.

The effect of the message, it is hoped by administration officials will be to convince the world of the sincere efforts of the United States to bring about peace and forestall pressure that might otherwise have been exerted by foreign governments for a sterner policy toward Mexico.

Having exhausted every avenue of influence on the Mexican authorities the administration does not feel compelled to intervene by force of arms to establish its views. Every opportunity will be given to American citizens to withdraw from the danger zones and strict neutrality in shipments of arms will be observed.

The White House conference began at 8:30 o'clock. The president's private office looks like a school room. Divans, davenports, sofas and chairs were arranged in equal rows in front of the President's desk. There were accomodations for the thirty-seven members of the two committees, but they did not all come, some being absent from the city. It was the largest conference that had been held at the executive offices, however, since the present administration began.

Secretary Bryan sat beside the President as the latter read his message. Those present from the Senate committee were Senators Bacon, (chairman); Stone, Clark, of Arkansas, Shively, O'Gorman, Williams, Swanson, Pomerene, McCumber Lodge, Smith, of Arizona and Borah, of Idaho.

From the House committe there were Representatives Flood, of Vir-

$100,000 TO AMERICAN BANK

Wilmington Bank About Only One Getting What It Asked For of Crop Funds—Hugh McRae Custodian.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—It developed today that the American National Bank, of Wilmington of which Mr. W. B. Cooper, is president, is about the only bank in the country to get as much money as was originally asked for. The Treasury Department said that Mr. Cooper asked for $100,000 and that they were forwarding that amount to him today.

Offer to Mr. McRae.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Williams today wired Mr. Hugh McRae, of Wilmington, offering him the place as custodian of Government funds at Wilmington. It is expected he will accept.

POLICEMAN SIMPSON DEAD.

Victim of Julius Parker's Gun in Morehead City Hotel.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C. Aug. 25.—After lingering between life and death for several days, Charles Simpson, the special policeman at the Atlantic Hotel, at Morehead City, who was shot by Julius Parker, the hotel electrician, in one of the corriders of that hostelry early on the morning of August 13th, died at the Morehead City Hospital late Saturday night. Everything possible was done to save Simpson's life but the efforts of the physicians proved of no avail.

It was found that the bullet, which entered the left breast just above the heart, had ranged downward through the left lung and had lodged against the backbone.

A preliminary hearing had been set for last Thursday but at that time the physicians could not tell just how badly Simpson was injured and the hearing was postponed until something definite could be learned. Julius Parker, who fired the fatal bullet, will now be tried for his life.

GOOD ROADS CONVENTION.

Delegates From Each State Invited to Meet at St. Louis.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 25.—Governer Major today sent letters to all governors in the United States asking them to name delegates to represent their states, and to come themselves to the United States Good Roads Convention in St. Louis, November 10th to 15th.

This convention will consider trying to induce Congress to extend Federal aid to the good roads.

AGREE ON CHANGE IN CURRENCY BILL

Democrats Adopt Amendment to Administration Money Measure.

WITHOUT A DISSENTING VOTE

Rapid Progress Made In Senate in Consideration of Various Schedules—Lively Debate One Feature of the Measures.

Washington, Aug. 25.—Ratification of the free list in the tariff bill, with reservation of a few commodities for later consideration; agreement by Democrats o the Finance committee to consider an amendment by Senator Kenyon which automatically transfers trust controlled articles to the free list; discussion of free print paper and the paper schedule and a lively debate on Southern and New England cotton mills, enlivened the tariff debate in the Senate today.

So rapid was the progress in consideration of the free list that Democratic leaders were lead to predict an early passage of the bill, some insisting it would be ready for a vote by the middle of next week. in the midst of this progress, however were injected several set speeches which precipitated a long colloquy between Senators Lippitt, of Rhode Island, and Smith, of South Carolina ,over relative conditions in New England and Southern cotton mills. This occupied several hours and left the schedules considerably behind for the day.

Free raw wool was among the proposals in the free list approved by the Senate in "committee of the whole," but this will come up again on substitutes offered in the Senate proper.

Free meat, cattle, sheep, swine and wheat were passed over at the request of Senator McCumber of North Dakota.

Senator Smith, of South Carolina assailing the foreign labor in New England cotton mills and the wages paid, provoked a sectional debate, Senator Lippitt retorting with a description of the child labor in the South and a comparison of wages, showing the Southern wages to be lover than those paid in New England cotton mills.

The paper schedule was agreed to as amended by the Finance Committee, with the exception of the paragraph on wrapping paper, which was passed over at the suggestion of Senator Hughes, in charge of the schedule.

The Sundries schedule was taken up, and the paragraphs on braids, brooms, brushes and buttons agreed to. Senator Bristow protested that the reduced duties on brooms was another discrimination against products in which farmers were interested. Senator Cummins protested against the reduced duties on the cheaper grades of buttons claiming that the rates proposed would put the Iowa manufacturers out of business.

During the afternoon Senator Ashurst delivered a genera ldefense of the bill comparing it with other tariff measures of the past. He denied that it was a studied discrimination against the farming class.

An amendment to the foreign meat inspection clauses was proposed to the finance committee today by the bureau of animal industry, which suggested the original clause providing that an inspection of foreign meats equal to the inspection of American meat should be "sufficient." The amendment is designed to clarify the clause by providing that such foreign inspected meat shall enjoy the same rights and provides as accorded American meat inspected under the inspection la wof 1906.

TO INVESTIGATE CHARGES.

As to Official Conduct of Judge Emory Speer, of Georgia.

Washington, Aug. 25.—Thorough investigation of the official conduct of United States District Judge Emory Speer, of the Southern District of Georgia, to determine whether he has been guilty of any impeachable misbehavior, was agreed upon unanimously today by the House Judiciary committee.

Tomorrow Chairman Clayton will introduce a resolution asking the House to empower the committee to investigate the charges and compel the attendance of witnesses. The committee will report to the House its conclusion and recommendations. Such a course, unanimously agreed upon by the committee, follows precedents in the impeachment cases of Swayne, Hanford, Archbald and others.

The investigation probably will be made chiefly through a sub-committee. Witnesses to be summoned will be determined upon later. Judge Speer already has asked the committee to allow him to be present at the hearings, and requested that if possible he might appear after a time, when he is subject to hay fever. Judge Speer said his physician advised him that it would be dangerous for him to come to Washington before. The committee in all probability will accede to this request.

Judge Speer has acquainted the committee with the line of his defense, denying the charges and attacking their authorship. Many attorneys in Georgia have telegraphed to Chairman Clayton and to members of the Georgia delegation for and against the investigation.

The "Georgia delegation will meet this week and receive a report from its dean, Representative Bartlett, who has been going over the Department of Justice' exhibits and affidavits.

The committee, after holding that the papers made charges sufficiently grave to "warrant further investigation" adjourned today, subject to the call of the chairman.

SULZER FACTION WARS ON TAMMANY

Indictment of Leaders Asked on Charges of Conspiracy.

POSSIBLE BREACH IN RANKS

Allege Political Plot Put Governor Out of Executive Chair—Lawyers at Work on the Evidence.

New York, Aug. 25.—The indictment of Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, Aaron J. Levy, leader of the Democratic majority in the Assembly and Senator James J. Frawley chairman of the committee which investigated Governor Sulzer's campaign contributions was requested of the district attorneys of New York, and Albany counties today by Lynn J. Arnold, of Albany, a supporter of Governor Sulzer.

The indictment of the three leaders is asked on statements of many person presented by Judge Arnold to the district attorneys regarding alleged consiparacy to put Sulzer out of the governor's chair. In so announcing Judge Arnold repeated his declaration that money had been freely used to accomplish this result.

Judge Arnold's Statement.

Judge Arnold who is the publisher of the Knickerbocker-Press of Albany, said today:

"My newspaper has been friendly to Sulzer in this fight because we thought he was not getting a square deal. Because of this friendliness many persons have written to us and called to our office to tell us what they knew of a plot on the part of certain men whom I cannot name now to disgrace Sulzer, and put him out of the Governor's chair.

This evidence has been placed before competent lawyers and they believe with me that it is sufficient to warrant indictments in connection with the impeachment proceedings.

"This evidence in part is already in the hands of District Attorney Whitman and the District Attorney of Albany county. They are considering it. What they think o fit I am not at liberty to say. They will have more of it soon.

Sulzer Forces May Split.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 25.—A possible breach in the ranks of Governor Sulzer's supporters was indicated by the statement late today of former Judge D. Cady Herrick, who leads the Governor's legal forces in the impeachment matter, that "counsel for Governor Sulzer have nothing to do with any alleged criminal proceedings against Chales F. Murphy, Senator Frawley, or Assemblyman Levy, and are not pursuing any investigation of a criminal character against one."

On the other hand Judge Lynn J. Arnold, in New York, and others in Albany in the confidence of Governor Sulzer reiterated the declaration that steps to procure indictment already had been taken, both in New York and Albany counties.

Color is lent to the claim that Governor Sulzer is not only cognizant of this move, but entirely in accord with it, by a statement given out at the executive chamber today by a man who has frequently acted as his spokesman. This statement asserts unequivocally that "Governor Sulzer himself will go before the grand jury in New York county if it requires his presence." It also affirms that District Attorney Whitman of New York is familiar with the facts upon which indictments are sought.

District Atorney Sanford of Albany, today disclaimed any knowledge of any attempt to lay before a local grand jury evidence relating in any way to the governorship mix-up.

SECURITIES APPROVED.

To be Deposited With Treasury Department in Return for Currency.

St. Louis, Aug. 25.—Representatives of the St. Louis clearing house association and of the United States Treasury today approved approximately four million dollars worth of securities which are to be deposited with the Treasury Department in return for $3,000,000 in emergency currency to be placed in National banks thoughout the West and South to meet the crop moving stringency.

OUTLINES

Leo M. Frank, on trial for the murder of Mary Phagan, was found guilty, no recommendation for clemency being made by the jury returning the verdict.

Ratification of the free list in the tariff bill, with the reservation of a few commodities for later consideration, was accomplished in the Senate.

An agricultural amendment to the administration currency bill was adopted by the Democratic House caucus.

An indictment of three Tammany Hall leaders on a charge of conspiracy to put Sulzer out of the Governor's chair, has been asked by Lynn J. Arnold, of Albany, supporter of the impeached executive.

M. M. Mulhall, confessed ex-lobbyist, has resumed his testimony before the House Lobby Investigating committee.

President Wilson read his message on the Mexican situation before the members of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, and the House Committee on Foreign Affairs.

JEROME ARRIVES--- THAW UNPERTURBED

Matteawan Fugitive Sneeringly Calls His Old Prosecutor "Willie."

PRISONER ERRATIC AT TIMES

Ex-Governor of Pennsylvania Spokesman for Thaw Family Pending Arrival of Pittsburg Detective O'Mara.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 25.—The arrival of William Travers Jerome, Harry Kendall Thaw's old prosecutor, the assumption by ex-Governor William A. Stone, of Pennsylvania, of the position of spokesman here for the Thaw family pending the coming of Roger O'Mara, the Pitsburg detective, and the injection into the case of renewed talk of it assuming international aspects, were briefly the chief developments of the day in Sherbrooke since Stanford White's slayer fled from Matteawan.

If Thaw was terrorized by Jerome's coming he succeeded in concealing his feeling to all who visited him in his cell. Again he spoke of Jerome sneeringly, calling him "Willie" and insisted that his lawyers re-issue a summary of Jerome's remarks made in 1908 when he said that no one had ever contended Thaw was insane.

Of the lighter incidents of a day of excitement—exciting principally because of what might happen—was Thaw's show of temper over the fact that his breakfast was ten minutes late, and his continued erratic statements relative to plans for the publicity campaign which he regards as more important than any legal aspect of his case.

The possibility of an international twist in the case came when ex-Governor Stone raised the point that a Canadian embroiled in the Dominion's iron-clad immigration law regulations would doubtless have a right to appeal to the courts. Thaw, it had been said, would have no such privilege, except to the Minister of the Interior at Ottawa. Mr. Stone regarded this as contrary to the treaty between Canada and the United States guaranteeing to American citizens before Canadian courts the same rights as Canadians.

"In my opinion," said Mr. Stone, "the snow will be deep in Sherbrooke before Thaw leaves Canadian soil."

None of the contingent of Thaw's Canadian lawyers would commit themselves as to whether they shared Mr. Stone's views, although all conceded that the constitutionality of the drastic immigration law—a comparatively new one—had never been tested in the courts. They said that so far as they knew the procedure outlined last week, would be followed—that of arraigning Thaw in the Superior Court Wednesday on a writ of habeas corpus obtaining his release on the present commitment making a fight before the immigration board and then relinquishing to the American lawyers if Thaw were deported, the management of the legal battle in Vermont.

Mr. Jerome arrived in town about 1:45 o'clock this afternoon. He had come by automobile all the way from Newack, N. Y., whence he departed Saturday.

"The question of extraditing Thaw from Vermont," he said, "will rest entirely with the Governor. Politics sometimes enters into cases of this sort. Both sides can present their case to the Governor in the form of briefs, then it is up to the Governor to do just as he pleases. The relations of our States are uncertain in the matter of extradition."

Mr. Jerome spent the afternoon in conference with E. A. Conger, district attorney of Dutchess county, N. Y., and the Canadian lawyers retained to represent the New York interests in court.

As a step in hatching his publicity campaign, Thaw gave to the local Sherbrooke Daily today a personally prepared statement. In part it said:

"In Vermont we know there are good Americans, and that—not on my account, but just from uprightness—they won't allow any trickery to be used against any one.

"In Matteawan I saw a good deal of an old Vermont lawyer, Arthur Austin. Mr. Austin may have suffered from a mental disturbance some years ago; but after 1908 he was sane, yet was being kept apparently for life.

"In 1911 Mr. Austin, who already had been sane three years, still was in the most hideous mad house, with apparently no hope. In 1911 a friend started in and exposed abuses too painful to enter into.

"During those exposures we took out sane patients by writs and though my influence was too small to help myself, it was great enough to help others. Mr. Austin was freed. For several months I gave him employment until early this year he went out West to the home of his son.

"From Mr. Austin I heard much of Vermont and would be glad to rest there were it not for going to my native State.

"Vermonters have communicated with counsel and me, and one thing is sure: No subterfuge from New York county can pull wool over their eyes.

"Canadians of all sorts have told us there is not the least doubt that their immigration authorities, if they should be called upon, will arrange for me to return home. If the States have differences between themselves they say it is no affair of the Dominion's. A citizen of the United States, once I was acquitted by a New York jury, I had the same rights as every other citizen in the eyes of the law, and no one honestly respecting the law desires to nullify the verdict of that jury.

"No grand jury can be got even by packing that would indict me on the

BARRED AT AMBASSADOR'S RECEPTION.

London, Aug. 25.—Ambassador Page is said to be at his wit's end endeavoring to write a satisfactory reply to a letter of protest penned by the Duchess of Marlborough, who was barred at the Fourth of July reception of the Ambassador at Claridges, simply because she forgot her invitation card. The Embassy attache on guard at the entrance refused to thaw before the explanations of the indignant Duchess and she was forced to return to her home in humiliation without meeting the new diplomatic representative of her country. The situation will put the Ambassador's diplomatic ability to the severest test.

Hundreds Join in Noisy Demonstration When Verdict Is Announced.

No Visible Signs of Emotion Are Displayed By the Prisoner.

WIFE OF DEFENDANT SWOONS

Judge Will Sentence Prisoner Today, Jury Makes No Recommendations for Clemency—Police Called.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 25.—Leo M. Frank showed no visible signs of emotion early tonight when he was informed that he had been found guilty of the murder of 14-year-old Mary Phagan. The factory superintendent's wife was with the prisoner when the message was delivered and she collapsed.

More than an hour before Frank was notified, the jury's verdict of murder in the first degree was received with a noisy demonstration by a crowd estimated at more than 2,000 persons which had assembled outside the court house. All spectators were excluded from the court room before the verdict was announced. By agreement of counsel the prisoner was permitted to remain in his cell at the county jail. Only lawyers, court officials and newspaper men heard the verdict.

The Verdict "Guilty."

After listening to the presentation of evidence and argument of counsel for more than four weeks, the jury retired at 12:47 o'clock this afternoon when Judge Roan concluded his charge. Shortly after 4 o'clock it was announced that the verdict had been reached, but it was nearly 5 o'clock before the jury returned to the court room.

At 4:56 o'clock, Foreman Winburne, read the verdict, it contained no recommendations for clemency. As the news was flashed to the crowd outside there was loud cheering. Mounted policemen rode through the crowd in an effort to disperse it, but the demonstration continued unabated.

Solicitor Hugh Dorsey, who conducted the prosecution, was the first person to leave the court room. As he stepped into the street he was lifted to the shoulders of several men and carried for more than 100 feet through the shouting throng.

Sentence Deferred.

On account of the demonstration, Judge Roan announced that he would not sentence the prisoner until tomorrow, and possibly later. The judge also was cheered when he left the court room.

Counsel for the defendant tonight announced that a motion for a new trial would be made immediately.

Charge to the Jury.

Judge L. S. Roan's charge to the jury delivered today immediately after he had overruled a motion of the defense for a mistrial, was terse and direct. With reference to "reasonable doubt," he said:

"You are not compelled to find from the evidence his guilt beyond any doubt, but beyond a reasonable doubt, such a doubt as grows out of the evidence or for the want of evidence, such a doubt as a reasonable and impartial man would entertain about matters of the highest importance to himself, and after all reasonable efforts to ascertain the truth. This doesn't mean a fanciful doubt, one conjured up by the jury."

Frank's Character Stressed.

During the trial much stress was placed by both sides on the question of Frank's character. Judge Roan charged the jury that while evidence of the defendant's good reputation previous to the death of Mary Phagan was to be considered possibly as creating a doubt of his guilt, such evidence would not suffice to clear him if in the opinion of the jury other testimony was sufficient to show that he had committed the crime charged against him.

The reading of the charge required about 20 minutes.

Declares His Innocence.

Frank asserted tonight to friends who visited him in his cell: "I am as innocent now as I was a year ago." His appearance and general demeanor remained as impassive as throughout the trial.

Rabbi David Marx is quoted tonight as saying: "I am stunned. I cannot believe it. I know he is innocent—I know he is incapable of such a crime. I ask the public to suspend final judgment until an appeal for a new trial is made."

Paper Based on Agricultural Products Put on Same Basis as Commercial Paper for Banking Purposes.

Washington, Aug. 25.—An agricultural amendment to the administration currency bill was adopted by the House Democratic caucus today. After several preliminary skirmishes, in which other amendments were beaten, the caucus without a dissenting vote adopted an amendment sponsored both by the "insurgent" contingent, and banking and currency committee, to put paper based on agricultural products on the same basis as commercial paper for banking purposes.

The amendment, the result of many conferences and concurred in by adminstration leaders and those unsuccessfully seeking other amendments, reads:

"Upon the endorsement of any member bank, any Federal reserve bank may discount notes and bills of exchange arising out of commercial transactions, that is, notes and bills of exchange issued or drawn for agricultural, industrial or commercial purposes or the proceeds of which have been used or may be used for such purposes the Federal reserve board to have the right to determine or define the character of the paper thus eligible for discount, within the meaning of this act. But such definition shall not include notes or bills issued or drawn for the purpose of carrying or trading in stocks, bonds or other investment securities nor shall anything herein contained be construed to prohibit such notes and bills of exchange, secured by staple agricultural products or other goods, wares or merchandise from being eligible for such discount.

"Notes and bills admitted to discount under the terms of this paragraph must have a maturity of not more than 90 days."

"We have won all we contended for," was the comment of Representative Neely, of Kansas, in charge of the opposition to the bill. "The Glass amendment" added Representative Henry, of Texas, "comes practically to the amendment I have advocated during the last three months."

"The re-discount section as thus amended," replied Chairman Glass, "does not comprehend a single one of the wild and absurd suggestions which had been proposed. Mr. Henry surrendered solely and simply because he was beaten. He jumped after the boat left the wharf."

During today's session, the caucus defeated an amendment by Representative Wingo, of Arkansas, to exclude from re-discounting at Federal reserve

STRIKE SETTLEMENT DROPPED.

Operatives and Officials Refuse to Come to Terms.

Farmington Mo., Aug. 25.—The State Board of Mediation and Arbitration today abandoned all hope of settling the lead strike in Southeastern Missouri, as representatives of the Western Federation of Miners and of the Mine Owners at a public hearing today refused to submit terms of peace different from those already rejected.

The board will meet tomorrow, not as a mediatory body, but as arbitrators. Witnesses will be examined under oath to determine the exact labor condition in the lead belt and then the board probably will return a finding specifying the terms on which work in the mines shall be resumed.

Refusal to abide by the decision of the board of arbitrators is punishable by a fine not exceeding $500.

The Union today extended its picket systems and all highways leading into the mining towns are guarded by strikers who hope to persuade all strike breakers to remain away from the mines.

PLANK PUT ANOTHER ACROSS

Fanned Eleven Men and Mackmen Downed Browns—Cleveland Won Second Straight—Tigers Won—Senators Lost.

Eddie Plank, on his last legs as a veteran star twirler, came back with a magnificent start in yesterday's game between the Athletics and Browns, and won his second game in five weeks for Mack's league leaders, holding the Browns to five hits and fanning 11 batsmen, partially upsetting the dope that he will not be in the big fight in October. It is altogether probable, however, that Mack will be afraid to risk Plank in one of the big games, unless he continues at a winning clip, such as he held during the first part of the Summer. Yesterday was the second straight for the Athletics, as they won Sunday's game, 9 to 1.

The Cleveland Naps put over another win yesterday after defeating the New York Yankees in the first game Sunday afternoon. Cy Falkenberg, the "comeback", whom Manager Clarke Griffith is dickering for, held the New Yorkers to seven scattered hits.

The Chicago White Sox defeated the Senators in yesterday's game, the Griffmen having taken the opener Sunday. Groom and Hughes officiated for the Senators and Red Russell for the White Sox.

Ty Cobb, leader of the American League in batting proclivities, twice killed Boston hopes of winning yesterday's game, and the Tigers took the game, 6 to 5. In the fifth Cobb stole home with the tying run, and in the eighth he made a magnificent return to the plate of Hooper's fly, after a spectacular catch.

Plank Won Another.

St. Louis, Aug. 25.—Philadelphia was able to hit Leverenz in but one inning today but tallied three runs on five hits and an error. Plank as usual had the home team baffled and shut the locals out, fanning 11. In the fourth inning Manager Stovall was banished for disputing a decision.

Detroit, Aug. 25.—Ty Cobb today twice killed a possible Boston victory and Detroit took the game, 6 to 5. In the fifth inning Cobb stole home with the tying run, Veach scoring later on a wild pitch. In the eighth, after capturing Hooper's fly, Cobb made a magnificent return to the plate and prevented Janvrin from scoring on the out.

Walter Johnson's Fourteenth Straight

Chicago, Aug. 25.—More than 28,000 persons, the largest crowd that the Nationals have performed before this year, saw Walter Johnson, the world's pitching king, score his fourteenth consecutive win of the year at Comminsky Park yesterday afternoon; the hurler of smoke and fire getting a two to one verdict over Jim Scott, pride of the White Sox right-handers.

It was one of Johnson's most remarkable games in fact in many ways it was one of the best games of the 1913 campaign. Only six hits were made off him and four of these were flukes of the worst order. When he fanned Lord, Chase and Bodie, the Sox heavy artillery, in succession in the eighth, the 28,00 spectators cheered for fully five minutes. Again in the ninth, with two men on bases and two down, he struck out Collins on three pitched balls.

CAMNITZ TO PHILLIES.

He and Bobby Byrne Traded for Dolan and Cash Consideration.

Pittsburg, Aug. 25.—Howard Camnitz, former star pitcher of the Pittsburg National League club, accompanied by his wife and child, left here tonight for Philadelphia. Camnitz and "Bobby" Byrne, third baseman of the local team, were traded last Saturday to the Philadelphia National League club for Dolan and a cash consideration.

Camnitz said he was going to Philadelphia to do the best work within his power. "It's baseball business, you know, to be transferred," he answered when asked how he liked the change.

A commercial laboratory has been established in Trieste at the expense of the city.

Now Seeking Managers Raised On the Game

New York, Aug. 25.—There was a time in baseball, and it is not a great many years ago, when the owners of ball clubs were inclined to select men to act as managers of their teams who were more theorists than they were players. The club presidents were inclined to be impressed with the ability of these men to decipher—on paper—plays and combinations that seemed to be unbeatable.

Not many of them got a chance to show their worth even at that but some few did. Nowadays club owners want men for managers who have been brought up in baseball. They want men who are in a position to know just how much to expect from their players; men who will not demand the impossible, but still insist upon baseball being played every minute that the contract beginning April 15 and ending October 15 calls for.

Not one of the sixteen managers is a "theorist," like Frank Selee—a man who had had no experience in major league ball, and guided the plays only by an outsider's judgment. Even Stallings was a big league catcher many, many year ago. Of the sixteen, one is a catcher, two are first basement, two second basement, one shortstop and two outfielders—eight, in all—are still in the game. All the rest, except Mack and Stallings, have been in the game so recently that they can practice with their men and know, by actual fee lof the bat and ball just how everything is going along.

The National league managers are:

Boston George Stallings, bench manager, veteran of long experience.

Brooklyn—"Bill" Dahlen, retired shortstop.

Chicago John Evers, second baseman.

Cincinnati—"Joe" Tinker, shortstop.

New York—John J. McGraw, retired third baseman.

Philadelphia—Charles Dooin, catcher.

Pittsburg—"Fred" Clarke, retired outfielder.

St. Louis—Miller Huggins, second baseman.

The American league managers are:

Athletics—"Connie" Mack, bench manager, veteran of many seasons.

Boston—J. Garland Stahl, first baseman.

Chicago—"Jimmy" Callahan, outfielder.

Detroit—Hugh Jennings, retired shortstop.

New York—Fank Chance, first baseman.

St. Louis—George Stovall, first baseman.

Washington—Clark Griffith, retired pitcher.

Two—McGraw and Jennings—are graduates of the great Baltimore team. Three—Chance, Evers and Tinker—worked together on the conquering Cubs. Oddly enough three more—Dahlen Callahan and Griffith—all had their schooling on the Chicago team that preceded the Cubs—a gang of merry joy riders wdhose individual abilities were superb, but who could win no flags.

Stallings is a come back. Evers, Tinker and Huggins get their first show this spring. Chance has been transferred from one league to another. As to the actual skill and knowledge o fthe game these managers may possess—well, figure it this way: If each o fthem had the arm and the wind that they had a few years ago, what team of either league could stand against them? How far would any club get if matched against this aggregation—Dooin, catcher; Griffith and Callahan, pitcher; Chance, first base; Evers, or Huggins, second base; Jennings, Dahlen or Tinker, shortstop; McGraw, third base; Clarke, Birmingham and Stahl, outfielders?

GIANTS TOOK RED OPENER

Ames Was Downed Twirling Against His Old Team—Phillies Won From Cards—Braves and Cubs Also Winners.

Joe Tinker sent the McGraw discard, Lemuel Ames, to stop the Giants in the first game of the series wih the Reds yesterday afternoon, and he approached so near to filling the little manager's bill that several thousand Polo ground attendants nearly had nervous prostration. The Reds succeeded in putting one tally on the board in the third inning, while Ames held the Giants runless until the ninth inning. Then he weakened and allowed the McGraw men to touch him for a sufficient number of hits to put two tallies on and win the game. Al Demaree started for the Giants, but was succeeded by Otis Crandall after the third inning.

The Phillies with Rixey pitching at his best and supported by sensational fielding, shut the St. Louis Cardinals out by a three to nothing score. Hans Lober and Sam Magee starred especially in the field.

The lucky seventh did the business for the Chicago Cubs, after both Allen and Humphries had been run in early in the game, and gave way to Yingling and Lavender in a pitchers duel. Lavender won his game in the seventh by scoring the winning run on his double and Leach's single.

The Boston Braves bested the Pittsburg Pirates in a game featured by an exciting ninth inning finish in which the Braves put across two runs to the Pirates four, but retaining a one-run lead.

Ames Weakened.

New York, Aug. 25.—A fierce ninth inning rally enabled New York to win from Cincinnati here today 2 to 1. Ames, the Giants discard, weakened in the ninth.

MAY CALL OFF BOUT.

Between Lightweight Champion and British Contender.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 25.—The manager for Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion, after agreeing with the manager of Freddie Welsh, the British contender on Jim Griffin, of San Francisco, as referee of the bout set for September 20th, today announced that unless Griffin consented to act, and articles were signed by tomorrow, the bout would be declared off. Griffin today asserted that he would not referee the fight.

Police sanction was refused today for a bout between Ritchie and Ray Campbell on Labor Day, because of Campbell' poor showing in a recent fight.

COBB VS. JACKSON

COBB LEADS THE VAN.

Ty Cobb, through his work in the double header against the Yankees Saturday, passed Joe Jackson in their race for the American League batting supremacy, leading him by three points Sunday morning, but slipping back a point in Sunday's engagement when he made four unsuccessful attempts to connect after four hits out of seven trials Saturday. Jackson made four unsuccessful attempts in Saturday's game, but connected safely two out of four times Sunday.

CHARLIE DOOIN'S TRIBUTE TO WILLIAM HENRY LOCKE.

The death of President William H. Locke, of the Philadelphia National Club, in the full flower of manhood and in his first year of executive service, deprives the National game of an ornament, the National League of a valued member, and the Philadelphia club of a capable executive—at a time when he could ill be spared from the councils of the National League in which he was a great factor for peace and harmony, and this tribute from Manager Charlie Dooin seemed the most fitting of the many local and other wreaths placed on his grave:

"During my thirteen seasons in the major leagues, I never knew or was associated with a man who was as square as Bill Loske. He was a business man himself and told me at the start that he had selected me to look after the playing end of the game. I did it to the best of my ability and never once did he question my judgment. I feel as if I had lost a brother in the death of Mr. Locke. I had become so attached to him as a man and friend that I was always thinking of him and the joy it would bring in his sick bed when we won a game. I had always hoped that we could win the pennant and that if he was able to see us play the final games of the season I could be the first to carry the news to him. It is a blow to me and all the boys. They respected, admired, and liked Bill Locke to a man."

Eddie Plank A Has Been (?)

While Connie Mack and his admirers may not be worrying over the outcome o fthe current pennant race in the American League, one slip-up in the Athletic's machine has arrived, which may upset the dope in the world's series. The cog to wobble is Eddie Plank, marvelous southpay flinger.

With the exception of Friday's game, in which he pitched the last one and two-thirds innings, gives two hits but receiving credit for the win, Plank has not won a game since July 20th.

With the Cleveland Naps winning three out of four from the pace makers last week followed by the Cubs taking one out of three in the series ending Saturday, followed by the Senator Series now on, the Athletics now have a lead of only nine games. Still the majority is picking the Pennsylvania entry to represent the A. L. in October.

With the Athletics in the world's series the wise Mack and his thletes will have to have Eddie Plank pitching as he has for a dozen years and not as he has the past month, to regain the blue ribbon title and keep it away from the National league.

Eddie Plank and not the Athletics, is slipping. This means danger for Connie Mack, and unless Jack Coombs can get back in shape the Athletics will not rule such top favorites when the two rivals go to the post seven weeks hence.

The Gettysburg southpaw has been a tower of strength to Mack and assistants in winning four pennants, and this one too, as well as being extremely effective against the Giants. But Plank is in a slump and this behooves Mack & Co., to issue a C. Q. D. ball.

Plank started out in hurricane style this year, better than ever before and up to July 20th, when he blanked the Browns at Sportsmen's Park eight to nothing, did not show any trace of ever weakening. But Plank is not there now, and that's the hitch for the Athletics.

KILLED BY HER SON-IN-LAW

Mrs. Jennie Vick, of Wilson, Shot by "Red" Jones in Edgecombe County—Shocking Affair Sunday Morning.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., Aug. 25.—This community was shocked Sunday evening when telephonic information was received of the murder of Mrs. Jennie Vick, a woman about 60 years old and the wife of Bryant Vick. The killing was done by "Red" Jones, a son-in-law of Mrs. Vick, and took place at the home of the Jones family, near Sharpsburg, just over the line in Edgecombe county, about 3 o'clock Sunday morning.

Mrs. Vick, who lived near Wilson with her husband, on the Anderson farm, went to Rocky Mount last Wednesday to visit a daughter, Mrs. Slater. Friday morning Mr. Vick left here and went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jones and Saturday drove to Rocky Mount after his wife and they returned to spend Sunday with Mrs. Jones, their daughter.

Late Saturday night Jones, while drinking, attempted to force his wife to drink with him and in the discussion which followed Mr. and Mrs. Vick took the side of Mrs. Jones. During the discussion Mrs. Jones secured the whiskey bottle and emptied it. This angered Jones and he went in search of his gun.

In the meantime Jones was busy with a barn of tobacco and the family retired. Mr. and Mrs. Vick were in a room alone. The report is that late in the night, about 3 o'clock, Jones went to the room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Vick and attempted to enter. Mrs. Vick held the door, keeping Jones out. Jones fired through the door, the load of shot striking Mrs. Vick and killing her instantly.

Jones was arrested and is in jail at Tarboro. The body of Mrs. Vick was brought here on the midnight train last night and those who accompanied the remains brought the story as told here.

Mr. and Mrs. Vick are peaceable, hard working people, who have a good name in the community, having moved here from Nash county several years ago. They have a large family, ten children, five sons and five daughters, living in this and the surrounding counties. The funeral service was held this afternoon.

TO FORMER CONGREGATION.

Rev. Dr. F. W. E. Peschau Preached at St. Paul's Church Sunday.

The services at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church Sunday morning were of a very interesting character. Rev. Dr. F. W. E. Peschau, of Miamsburg, Ohio, a former pastor for 11 years, preached the sermon, which was one of unusual power. Dr. Peschau in his opening remarks spoke feelingly of the kindness of the congregation to him during the recent flood in Ohio and also for their sympathetic greetings during his severe illness.

He developed this text, "What is Your Life," in a three-fold division: In a relation to one's self, to others, and to God. His illustrations and applications were impressively and pointedly made and the large audience enjoyed the discourse.

Rev. G. W. McClanahan, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, conducted the services and Rev. Dr. R. C. Holland, president of the Foreign Mission Board of the Lutheran United Synod, in the South, read the Scripture lesson. The solo by Miss Catherine Vollers was effectively and beautifully rendered.

After the services many of Dr. Peschau's former parishioners and friends lingered to extend him their good wishes and greetings.

At St. Matthew's Lutheran church Sunday evening Dr. Holland preached an excellent and most interesting sermon on the extension of the Kingdom of Christ, the relation we sustain to the command and the duty of the Christian church to carry the Gospel to all people.

The special music by the choir and a beautiful solo rendered by Mrs. John M. Aberly, of Newbern, added very materially to the services.

MUST BUY LICENSE.

Autoists Running Machines Without Numbers Liable to Arrest.

Automobilists who have not secured from the Secretary of State license for 1913 and who do not display the number given them on their machines, are liable to arrest, and it is the purpose of Sheriff Cowan, following receipt yesterday of a letter from the Secretary of State, to enforce the law. The letter was as follows:

"Dear Sir: I have yours of the 22nd instant. I take it that you are referring in your letter to the matter of arresting those persons who do not display the license number on their machines. All automobile owners have had ample time to secure licenses and licenses have been issued to all applications filed in this office. It is, therefore, your duty under the law to arrest any and all persons who do not have 1913 license. As soon as it is possible I will forward you a complete list of those persons who have registered machines in this office. That, however, is not essential, as any driver who is running without license and display number should be arrested."

FUNERAL OF MRS. HONNET.

Services From Family Home on Front Street Sunday Morning.

A large concourse of sorrowing friends attended the funeral services of Mrs. Marie Honnet, which were held from the family home, No. 322 South Front street, Sunday morning at 11:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Dr. S. Mendelsohn, Rabbi of the Temple of Israel. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery beside the grave of her husband, who passed away a few months ago. There were many beautiful floral tributes which were exceptionally pretty and large in number, and attested the love and esteem in which Mrs. Honnet was held in the hearts of her many hundreds of friends in this city.

The honorary pallbearers were: Capt. John Barry and Messrs. J. C. Springer, J. V. Grainger, H. C. McQueen, S. P. Collier and W. J. Swails. Active—Messrs. M. W. Jacobi, Louis H. Skinner, H. L. Fennell, W. G. Whitehead, Adam Empie and Louis Goodman.

Funeral of Mrs. Hanby.

The funeral of Mrs. Adrienne Hanby, whose death occurred Saturday evening at the Summer home of her son, Mr. John R. Hanby, at Wrightsville Beach, will probably be held Wednesday afternoon. The services will be delayed until her son, Dr. Joseph D. Hanby, of Plain View, Tex., can reach Wilmington. He left his home Saturday night, and if he makes all connections will reach here Wednesday at 12:30 P. M. As soon as he reaches Atlanta he will telegraph so that funeral arrangements can be made.

SECRETARY DANIELS AT HOME

Cordially Received and in Fine Spirits—A. B. Andrews, Jr., Grand Captain Knights Templar. "Boss" Lanier Dead.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 25.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels is here for a few days on personal business connected with the News and Observer. Mrs. Daniels remained in Washington. Mr Daniels is being cordially received in his home city and is in exceptionally fine health and spirits.

Mr. A. B. Andrews, Jr., has been appointed Grand Captain of the Grand Encampment, Knights Templar, of the United States, and is the first North Carolinian to hold a National office in this organization. Grand Master Arthur McArthur, of the Troy Budget, Troy, N. Y., who was recently elected at the triennial conclave in Denver, Colo., made the appointment. Besides Mr. Andrews, Messrs. H. G. Smallbones and B. H. Stephens, of Wilmington; C. M. Vanstory, of Greensboro, and O. W. Spencer, of Salisbury, were delegates to the conclave from this State. The next conclave will be held in Los Angeles.

The State charters the Quaker Laboratory Co., of Wilmington, to make and sell family remedies, with capital of $10,000 authorized and $1,000 subscribed by G. A. Wilbur, W. P. Edmondson and others.

Seventy-seven law students, three of them colored, took the Supreme Court examination here today for license to practice.

"Boss" Lanier, the State's smallest man, who has served many years as page and messenger in the State Senate, died Saturday at his home in this city, aged 42 years. He is well known and has many friends throughout the State through his long service in the Senate. He was a normal sized child until he was one year old and then developed a gland trouble in the neck that dwarfed him so that he never attained more than one-fourth normal size.

The furnishing of the new Supreme Court room in the fire-proof administration building is nearing completion, but the court will meet today in the old court room because of the fact that the library and the clerk's office cannot be moved into the new building yet because of the steel cases and other equipment being delayed by the strike among the steel case workers. The new court room is being furnished in very fine style. The great art square made in one solid piece for the floor cost $1,800 and weighs 1,500 pounds. It was made in Scotland especially for the court and is lovely both as to fabric and design. The great two-story windows of the court room are draped with Italian red brocade curtains, hand finished. The bench where the members of the court will sit to hear appeals is of finely carved mahogany, the designs being especially typical of the court, the scales of justice being prominent in fine hard carved designs. The canopy over the bench is of rich red brocade surmounted by sunbursts. The decorations on the ceiling, all hand painted, are quite pretty, especially noticeable being little group pictures that might represent Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden. There is perfect harmony in the wall tints and colors, the draperies, the are square and other furnishings. The last Legislature appropriated $75,000 for furnishing the new State building and getting it ready for the several State departments that are to occupy it.

Created Much Excitement.

Considerable excitement was caused on Seventh street, between Market and Dock last night about 10 o'clock by the cries of a woman, who was apparently in a great deal of trouble. The police department was notified and when they arrived they found that a man who gave his name as J. Campbell, was beating his wife. He was arrested and placed in the city prison. Beyond being badly scared his wife did not seem to be hurt. The police say he had been drinking and was in an intoxicated condition when locked up. Campbell has been living here for several weeks, being foreman of a force at work on a building in course of construction, but his wife, it is said, arrived only about a week ago. He will be given hearing in the Recorder's court this morning.

KISS REFUSED BRINGS TRAGEDY.

With Revolver Man Wounds Wife, Then Swallows Poison.

Philadelphia, Aug. 25.—Enraged when she refused to kiss him goodbye before he ended his life, Thomas Keene, tonight shot and seriously wounded his wife, Mrs. Rita Keene. He then held a squad of policemen at bay while he swallowed poison. He was taken to a hospital where a stomach pump was used, but he died.

The young couple had been separated for seven months and today the husband was served with papers in a divorce suit. He sought his wife and begged her to give him one last goodbye kiss.

ONLY ONE CAPITAL CASE.

Cumberland Superior Court Convenes Many Minor Cases.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Aug. 25.—Cumberland Superior Court convened here today for the trial of criminal cases, with Judge C. C. Lyon presiding. Only one of the 81 cases on the docket is for a capital crime. Frank McPherson, a young negro, will be tried for killing his uncle, Charles Levett. McPherson escaped after the homicide, but was captured by Sheriff McGeachy near Augusta, Ga., six weeks ago, and brought back to stand trial.

THIN FOLKS MADE FAT.

The Way Samose Works Its Wonders Guaranteed by J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co.

More than half the readers of the Star would give almost anything to be plump and rosy instead of thin and scrawny.

Physicians and chemists for years have studied the problem of making a flesh forming food, but it is only within the last few months that a bright man discovered the prescription that taken with the daily meals give a positive increase in flesh. In fact it was so certain in its action that a guarantee was attached to each package stating that if weight did not increase as a result of using it, the purchase price would be refunded.

This preparation is now put up in convenient form for use under the name of Samose.

The J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. secured the agency in Wilmington for Samose and as the percentage of satisfactory results from the use of this prescription is so nearly one hundred per cent, we feel there is no risk in offering to refund the money if Samose does not do all that is claimed for it.

Everybody that is thin and out of health should begin today the use of Samose with a guarantee like this.

LAWYER GUILTY WINE-SELLING.

James H. Johnson, Member Cumberland Bar, Convicted Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Aug. 25.—James H. Johnson, of Hope Mills, a member of the Cumberland county bar, was today found guilty of retailing by a Superior Court jury and entered a plea of nolo contendere to three additional indictments.

Solicitor Sinclair accepted a nol pros in another case and refused to ask for a verdict in a sixth because the witness to whom Johnson was alleged to have sold a glass of wine testified that he was too drunk at the time to know whether the defendant sold or gave him the beverage.

The witness in the case which went to the jury, whose name was J. B. Memory, recalled that he paid for his glass. All the indictments against Johnson alleged the sale of wine at his vineyard near Fayetteville in smaller quantities than is allowed by the prohibition law.

MIRACULOUS FEAT.

Man Still Lives Who Leaped From Brooklyn Bridge.

New York, Aug. 25.—Peter Kelly, a young motorman jumped from the Brooklyn bridge today at its highest point and escaped with a few slight bruises. On his way down Kelly turned over half a dozen times, and struck the East river almost flat on his back. He floated a short distance until he was rescued. Kelly refused to tell why he made the jump.

The ambulance surgeon, who in ten minutes pronounced him practically as good as ever, said Kelly had been drinking.

DON'TS ON RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is stubborn as a mule. Hangs on like a leech, wears you out, worries you with pain, drags your vitality, depresses your mind and health. DON'T give up to it. DON'T let it hang on. DON'T overlook Foley Kidney Pills. They are a natural enemy to the conditions that cause rheumatism; which they will promptly remove.—R. R. Bellamy.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES

Suffered Three Years. Used Resinol. Now Not A Pimple To Be Seen.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 27, 1912. "I had been troubled for the past three years with pimples which completely covered my face and neck. The pimples would come out, fester up and cause me to pick at them, feeling very uncomfortable. I tried most all kinds of facial creams, but with no effect. I tried a sample of Resinol Soap and Ointment and noticed instant relief. I bought Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, and began the treatment. After using two jars of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, there was not a pimple to be seen, and now my face is as smooth as if there was never a pimple on it." (Signed) Albert Greenburg, 4167 Frankford Ave.

For eighteen years Resinol has been a favorite doctor's prescription and household remedy for itching troubles, skin eruptions, dandruff, red, rough faces and hands, sores, piles, etc. Stops itching instantly. Sold by all druggists, Resinol Soap, 25c., Ointment, 50c. and $1.00, but you can try them without cost—just write for liberal samples to Dept. 18-M, Resinol Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.

A French writer having given this advice to women, "If you want to know the character of the man you intend to marry, watch him eat a peach," the Wilmington Star says: "A better way would be to watch him smile at every peach that passes." This is advice which is apt to cause trouble in the engagement market.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Considering the whole year, it has been one with two horns of plenty so far as Wilmington is concerned. There are periods of the year when it is less active everywhere, but when all the year bulges out with business and is brimful with progress, no man should admit that it is dull at any time. Have in mind the whole year and tell the truth—there's nothing the matter with business.

GROWTH OF FERTILIZER INDUSTRY.

A census report on fertilizer is of interest to Wilmington, where the fertilizer business reaches an annual volume of something like ten or twelve million dollars. The growth of the industry since 1859 is marvelous. In that year there were only 47 establishments reported, employing but 308 workers and turning out products valued at no more than $891,344. In 1909, when the census secured its latest data, there were 550 establishments engaged primarily in the manufacture of fertilizers, with an invested capital of $121,537,451, employing 21,950 workers, of whom 18,310 were wage-earners. The total value of all the products of these 550 plants was $103,960,213, of which $92,369,631 was the value of the fertilizers proper, which amounted to 5,240,164 tons. The sum of $11,882,815 was paid out for services, of which $7,447,179 was for wages.

The growth of the industry, says the report, from census to census, has been continuous and rapid, the value of products in 1909 being 18 times that of 1869. Between 1899 and 1909 the value increased 132.8 per cent. during which time the growth was greater than in any other decade except that from 1869 to 1879.

The industry is largely centered in the South, the South Atlantic States alone reporting more than one-half of the total products; and much the larger part of the expenditures for fertilizer is made by the South, 65.9 per cent. of the reported expenditure of over $114,000,000 for fertilizers in 1909 being made by Southern farmers. The farmers of the South Atlantic division alone spent nearly $60,000,000. Outside of the South, most of the expenditure was made by farmers in New England, the Middle Atlantic and East North Central divisions.

Georgia is by far the most important State in the production of fertilizers, the value of her output in 1909 being about one-sixth of the total. Maryland ranks second and South Carolina third. In Georgia the rate of increase was 399 per cent. while in North Carolina, Virginia, Alabama, Ohio, Tennessee, Mississippi and Connecticut the rate of increase exceeded 100 per cent. Florida made the greatest gain in value of products during the last decade—675.6 per cent. The report concludes:

"As judged by the amount expended for them, ammoniates, animal and vegetable, were the most important materials, followed by phospate rock, potash salts, superphosphates, nitrate of soda, ammonium sulphates, sulphuric acid, fish, pyrites, and kainit in the order named. The cost of materials aggregated $55,360,423 in 1909, $28,975,713 in 1904, and $23,454,126 in 1899. Of these respective totals, the cost of ammoniates formed 42.4 per cent in 1899 as compared with 34.2 per cent in 1904 and 29 per cent in 1909. The cost of phosphate rock shows only slight proportionate changes; it constituted 15.2 per cent of the total of the specific materials in 1899, 14.6 per cent in 1904, and 15.6 per cent in 1909. The cost of potash salts represented 13.2 per cent, 12.4 per cent, and 13.2 per cent of the totals for the respective years; and the aggregate cost of sulphuric acid and pyrits and sulphur constituted 13.2 per cent of the total in 1899, 11 per cent in 1904 and 11.2 per cent in 1909. All fertilizer establishments manufacturing sulphuric acid employed the chamber process, 16 using the Hoffman intensifier systems, 11 the Pratt, nine the Gilchrist, three the Meyer tangential systems, and one the Luney. The manufacture, for consumption in their own works, of 1,826,358 tons of acid phosphate was reported by establishments engaged primarily in the fertilizer industry, and 12,507 tons were made and consumed by establishments manufacturing fertilizers as subsidiary products."

THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE.

What is going on in this country is simply the result of executing the will of the people. The popular will is being codified, so what is the use for anybody to stand in the way of what must finally be a triumph for the people? All of us may as well accept the inevitable and readjust ourselves to the new order of things that is going to be enforced by a government of the people, by the people, for the people. The signs are that whilom government beneficiaries are about to see the light, and thereupon the Columbia State observes:

"There is every evidence of the growth of a saner view throughout the country among the special interests who conceive themselves particularly affected by the effort to carry into effect policies which represent the consensus of public opinion as expressed at the last election. Particularly has this feeling been manifested in the Republican press and from the mouths of captains of industry and potent factors in large business enterprises, with respect to the tariff.

"While it is impossible, in the nature of things, to hope for an issue out of tariff legislation that will satisfy every beneficiary of the schedules it is proposed to reduce; while it is a hopeless thought that these reductions will even be considered reasonable by those whose business has been based upon the idea of profiting by the duties; while it were folly to imagine that the result of so hotly contested an election could make converts of people whose every idea of political economy is diametrically opposed to the policy upon which the nation is now embarked, yet it is comforting to the general wish for the renewal of stable conditions and the re-establishment of industrial optimism that there should be evident a feeling of non-resistance, of reluctance to kick against the pricks of political destiny, of desire, in short, to aid the administration, rather than to embarrass it!"

There ought not to be any "special interests" now. The people don't want any special interests. They want equal rights for all and special privileges for none, whether they are rich or poor. Special interests are those which receive special favors from the government, and if special favors are discontinued there can be no special interests.

Corporations, combinations and individuals who violate the law are outlaws, and they must expect to be dealt with accordingly, but every legitimate, law abiding corporation and individual in the country, not engaged illegally in doing injury and injustice to the public, need not have any fear under the new order—the inevitable.

There is no war on capital, no fight against the rich. There shall be suppression of greed and wrong, and protection of the people—all the people, poor or rich, high or low. We may as well adjust ourselves to the will of the people and get down to business. It will come out all right.

WILSON'S WISDOM.

We don't know what Mexico's final attitude will be towards the policy of President Wilson, but it is to be inferred that Envoy Lind has created some respect for it on the part of the Huerta administration. Attempts have been made to create the impression that Wilson has no policy, but it ought have been plain to every one that he had a policy that wasn't for publicity till the right time. Wise Wilson!

We have divined all along that President Wilson's policy is one of keeping this government at peace with Mexico, while making an effort to persuade the sister Republic to make peace among her own people for the preservation of their Republic. Meanwhile, he has let it be known that both sides in Mexico must respect the lives and property of Americans and foreigners in Mexico.

This must have been the basis for overtures through Mr. Lind. To have thundered out the demands of this country without first making overtures for a statesmanlike solution of the Mexican problem, would have stamped Wilson as an international tyro. He went at it in an orderly, diplomatic manner, and when diplomacy fails it is time enough to take a course that will have greater consequences than the present turmoil and bloodshed in our sister Republic. The Wilson critics must now have their jingoistic noses out of joint since governments like Great Britain, France and Germany have approved the steps taken by the Wilson administration.

The approval of three of the world's greatest powers is clear enough proof that Wilson had a policy and that it appealed to such enlightened nations as Great Britain, Germany and Japan, not to mention even the concurrence of most of the Latin Republics themselves. Our Mexican neighbors who are fighting among themselves must understand that the people of this country deplore the condition there and hope for the establishment of orderly and constitutional government among their neighbors. President Wilson clearly expresses American sentiment when he takes a position that means peace among Mexicans and peace between them and their brother Republicans this side the Rio Grande.

Wilson's wisdom will vindicate itself. The Nations of the world will applaud his course, because he is "taking steps" and not making a rush in the settlement of one of the gravest situations that ever arose on the American continent. Wilson has a policy all right.

Away back yonder some men went to Texas while others ran off to Texas.

CURRENT COMMENT.

A negro filled with cocaine shot an officer in Charlotte, inflicting a dangerous wound from which he may die, but the officer after being shot, managed to send five bullets into the negro, yet it is stated today that he may recover, while the officer's life hangs in the balance. Cocaine fiends are quite the worst yet. The last Legislature passed an act that if strictly enforced will cut down its sale and use.—Greensboro Record.

This has been one of the most disastrous drought years in large areas of this country, and the Southwest and the Middle West have been scorched by weeks of blazing sunshine, while here in North Carolina the rainfall has been almost exactly normal and most crops, all the late ones, have almost a Spring freshness, as has also the foliage of the trees. In the Middle West the damage to the corn crop, which is the main one, is enormous, mounting into the hundreds of millions. In most of Texas all crops have suffered, particularly cotton and corn. At last there is a break in the heat, for cooler weather has come to the West. It is a merciful relief to man, beast and crop. North Carolinians do not know what a real drought is, or great heat for that matter, for they are truly in the temperate zone. They ought to be glad they are alive and right here.—Raleigh Times.

THE HEALTH SITUATION.

To the Editor of The Star:

A newspaper controversy seems to be in the nature of touching a live wire. You cannot always turn it loose. Replying to me in your Sunday issue, Mr. Willard says: "As to Father Dennen's statement that over ninety per cent of the physicians of the community are opposed to the methods of the superintendent of health, he is simply mistaken,...." "But the records of the medical society would be accepted as prima facie evidence that Father Dennen is wrong."

All right Mr. Willard, produce the records of the Medical Society. I regret that I cannot accept your declaration. If we are really honest in trying to serve the public there is no occasion for subterfuge. Mr. Willard continues: "I will undertake to say that if a poll of the physicians of Wilmington could be had, two-thirds of them would be heartily in favor of stopping this uncalled for opposition to the health work, and permitting it to proceed, etc."

In the first place, you assume too much when you say this is uncalled for. Secondly, I will go further and say three-thirds of the physicions are not opposed to the health work, but the physicians and citizens are opposed to the methods of the health work; and that is a different question. Did you want to make it appear that if two-thirds of the physicians on poll would encourage health work, they would thereby approve the methods employed? Don't befog the question. Your assertion that 90 per cent of the physicians never agree on anything, is a gratuitous insult, not lessened by your profession of friendship for them. For twenty-two years I have been associated in my calling with nearly every physician, and I do not hesitate to say, as a body, they stand second to none in the State, in ability, honesty and faithfulness. In the practice of medicine they stand together. They may differ on moral questions.

Mr. Willard continues: "At any rate, the board of health, by its adoption tonight, will probably set on foot an effort which if carried out, ought to clarify the situation, and give all unprejudiced persons information upon which they may form right conclusions. Let us wait and see what will be the outcome of the proposed examination."

Had I only seen the conditional resignation of the superintendent of health, I might have only suspected that he and the chairman had a conference and fixed the thing, but the paragraph just quoted removes all ground for suspicion. Why Mr. Willard, such a proposition of the superintended of health approved by you is an insult to the intelligence of the community. He to select his own judges and prescribe the conditions of the investigation! Why select Dr. Rankin, who is more or less familiar with local health conditions, and exclude from service any one of the U. S. Department who had served in Wilmington. I presume if Surgeon General Blue were to accede to such a request, his appointee would be entertained at the Marine Hospital. Then what would happen? I will give the public a sample.

Last week when Dr. Stiles was on the train with Dr. Rankin, he took great pains to impress the latter with the ability of Dr. Nesbitt. There was nothing secret about it. It was done openly in the Pullman car, in the presence of others. But Dr. Stiles apparently was not satisfied with what he could say, and made the assertion that so bad were the health conditions in Wilmington that some of the large life insurance companies had withdrawn from the territory or instructed their agents not to seek business, and added that it would be a grave mistake to oppose Dr. Nesbitt. One gentleman had the temerity to ask Dr. Stiles to name some of these companies. But he declined to name any, saying he had it in confidence at a dinner. I took the pains to see several life insurance agents, and I find the opposite. The agents are encouraged to hustle around both for life policies and health policies.

Mr. Willard, if you wish an investigation have a fair one. Let Dr. Nesbitt select Dr. Rankin or any one he likes, but let the people be represented. Ask the surgeon general to send Dr. C. P. Wertenbaker. He is an expert health officer. He was in Wilmington and was familiar with health conditions in the past; and can easily acquaint himself with present conditions. Be fair to the people. Take the last 10 years. Let the investigation consider the money appropriated each year with health results and conditions of those respective years. Then we can see whether the sums appropriated since 1911 will show proportionate results. At present we have taxation without representation. The present board was constituted for efficiency and economy.

WILMINGTON AND THE STATE.

To the Editor of The Star:

The last issue of The State Journal under the caption "A Word for Wilmington," contains the following:

"Many North Carolinans will doubtless be surprised to learn that the export and import trade of Wilmington exceeds in value that of Norfolk, Portsmouth and Charleston combined, but such is the case. We believe a knowledge of this simple fact will do more to turn the eyes of the State towards Wilmington than all else that may be said, and the eyes of the State should turn that way. Wilmington is going to be a great city at no far distant day. This is evident to any one who sees the wonderful growth and suburban development going on there and realizes the immeasurable advantages it has on account of its location on deep water. The opening of the Panama Canal is going to change the trade currents of the world and Wilmington will necessarily grow in importance as a seaport city.

But Wilmington is a mere incident to the Cape Fear river, which is North Carolina's greatest outlet to the sea. It should be used and enjoyed by the whole Satte. A large part of the tonnage of the State should move to the southeast and pass out through the mouth of the Cape Fear. There should be no rivalry between Wilmington and the balance of the State. The whole State will prosper in proportion to its use and development of this seaport. There should be great importing and wholesale houses there to supply every section of the State. Let the eyes and thoughts of the whole State be turned towards Wilmington and the mouth of the Cape Fear to hasten the development now going on there."

This is the correct view of the matter, and is one which should appeal to every North Carolinian. If the eyes of the State were turned upon Wilmington from a freight rate-making standpoint, the beneficial results would soon be apparent.

The sooner the entire State realizes the necessity of a North Carolina port, the rail rates from which our own State will control, the sooner will a satisfactory adjustment of our freight rates be effected.

As the State Journal well says, the fight is not for Wilmington alone, but for the entire State. As to this, there can be no real rivalry between Wilmington and the balance of the State. Wilmington recognizes that the fight is a State-wide one, and that in no way can it be more successfully accomplished than by making Wilmington North Carolina's gateway.

TWO WOMEN SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Stories Here Told.

Beatrice, Neb.—"Just after my marriage my left side began to pain me and the pain got so severe at times that I suffered terribly with it. I visited three doctors and each one wanted to operate on me but I would not consent to an operation. I heard of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing for others and I used several bottles of it with the result that I haven't been bothered with my side since then. I am in good health and I have two little girls."—Mrs. R. B. CHILD, Beatrice, Neb.

The Other Case.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but my husband thought I had better write to you and I did so, stating my symptoms. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Maine.

The Independent Ice Company

Wishes to remind the users of Ice that several years ago, when we were the only manufacturers and distributors of Ice in and around Wilmington that we did not attempt to put up the price, but maintained the same old schedul that had been in force years before, although we had every opportunity to name any list of prices we saw fit. This is a cold-blooded fact, as cold and clear as any ice ever made in Wilmington, and is well worth public consideration, for the average Ice Maker would have without any hesitation put up the price, but that has never been the Independent Ice Company's way of doing business.

Two years, or more, ago, we were largely instrumental, through the medium of The Central Ice Company, of which we were large owners, of having a Special Ice Train put on at 6:00 A. M., to serve the Trolley Line patrons, at city prices.

For these considerations, we are not posing as public benefactors. They were simply good business moves, as we saw them. As for ice by other Beach trains than 6:00 A. M., the prices now in effect are the same that have prevailed for years past.

We wish to further remind the public of the superior services, and the full weight deliveries they have this season, the lack of which conditions caused such widespread complaints the past two years, when we were not directly engaged in the city delivery of ice.

That our ice and our services are appreciated is attested by the fact that our sales are 25 % or more greater this Summer than ever before.

BOARD OPPOSES SEPARATION

County Commissioners Adopt Resolution Asking Legislators to Take No Action in Health Department—Comments.

The Board of County Commissioners yesterday adopted a resolution offered by Commissioner Moore, opposing separation of the health department into city and county divisions, as was the situation before the last Legislature combined the two into the present department; and "earnestly requested" the Senator and Representative from this county "to do nothing towards repealing the act." Several members of the board offered comments on the health department situation.

The resolution adopted is as follows:

"Whereas, it has been reported that a petition will be presented to the special session of the Legislature requesting the repeal of the act consolidating the boards of health of the city of Wilmington and county of New Hanover, and

"Whereas, the act has been in force less than six months and has not been fairly tested as to its practicability, and

"Whereas, the consolidation of the two boards was approved by the secretary of the State Board of Health, by the former county board of health, and also by the former Council of the city of Wilmington, and the Board of Commissioners of New Hanover county, and

"Whereas, the State law, as it will continue in force, provides for a county board of health which will have supervision over all the suburbs of Wilmington and the villages in the county, and

"Whereas, the interests of the city and county are so nearly related through these suburbs, that there necessarily must arise friction in the administration of two boards of health, and

"Whereas, the establishment of a separate board of health for the city of Wilmington will necessitate the creation of new offices at additional expense to tax-payers, therefore

"Be it Resolved, That this board earnestly requests our Senator and Representative to do nothing at the special session of the Legislature towards repealing the act, but that it be permitted to continue in force until by thorough trial, it has been shown to be undesirable for this community."

Commissioner McGirt, discussing the resolution, stated that he had the utmost confidence in the board of health and the health department, and that he was sure the other Commissioners felt the same way. He said that he thought the selection of Dr. Nesbitt was the best that could have been made. "There is a lot of underground opposition," he said, "from local politicians and a few doctors," and he declared that there is "no just basis or reason for it. They are not able to show incompetence or neglect," he continued, "else why don't they do it? Dr. Nesbitt has made some few people mad who got in his path, and some just naturally seemed opposed to our having a clean city. They should come up with the evidence against Dr. Nesbitt," concluded Mr. McGirt, "if they want to be fair about it."

Commissioner Moore was of the opinion that there had been more done for the promotion of public health during the last two years than during any previous 10 years.

Commissioner Yopp declared that "they don't give him (Dr. Nesbitt) a fair show."

Chairman Willard said that nobody who enforced health laws was popular. If a health officer enforced no more than the State laws of general character, he would reap unpopularity. Such an official runs counter to the wishes of so many people. Mr. McGirt again said that the criticism of the department was not well founded; that you could hear criticism of Dr. Nesbitt, but when the critic was pinned down for a sound reason for his opposition, he couldn't give a definite answer. Commissioner Moore suggested that the celebrated "tin can" furnished a goodly share of the feeling against the health department. He said some would admit that conditions had improved but they didn't like tin cans and things "forced on them."

Petitions continue to be circulated for signatures asking the Legislature to repeal the consolidating act. The representatives have not made any public statement as to what their attitude will be, but there would seem no doubt that the Committee on Towns, Cities and Counties will have an opportunity to hear a vigorous discussion of the question, pro and con. The City Council has already adopted a resolution asking for separation.

PELLAGRA CONFERENCE.

Important Meeting in Spartanburg, S. C., Next Week.

In Spartanburg, S. C., Wednesday of next week will be held a pellagra conference in honor of the visit to this country of Dr. L. W. Sambon, the London pellagrologist, and the physicians of Wilmington as well as other portions of the State are interested in the meeting. Dr. Edward Jenner Wood, of this city, is among those reported to have signified their intention of attending the conference. There may be others from this city. The invitation to attend is general and it is expected that there will be many physicians present.

There will be an informal meeting at 10:30 o'clock next Wednesday morning in the U. C. T. hall, Spartanburg, at which it is expected Dr. Sambon will deliver an address, following which there will be a general discussion of the whole subject of pellagra by physicians, scientists and laymen. In the afternoon the laboratories of the Thompson-McFadden commission will be visited. At the laboratories valuable investigations regarding the nature of the disease are being carried on by a commission consisting of Doctors Siles and Garrison and their assistants. The Spartanburg Medical Society will give a smoker at the Country Club in the evening, and there will be further discussion of the subject of pellagra.

The Thompson-McFadden pellagra commission has just received the further donation of $5,000 to carry on their investigation of the disease.

It is expected that steps will be taken during this meeting looking towards securing further interest on the part of the government in establishing at Spartanburg a large general hospital for the study of pellagra trachoma and allied conditions. For these and other reasons much good is expected.

Physicians who are planning to attend the meeting are expected to notify Dr. Baxter Haynes, Spartanburg, so that arrangements for their entertainment may be made.

OCEANIC HOTEL CLOSES TODAY

Popular Hostelry Has Had Very Successful Season, Entertaining Many Guests—Seashore Open for Week Yet.

After breakfast this morning the Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, will close for the season, though Manager Chas. E. Hooper, Chief Clerk W. E. Pennington and several other members of the clerical force will remain at the hotel for a week or ten days yet. This does not mean the closing of the beach season this early, for the Seashore Hotel will remain open until the first of September, the usual time of closing.

The Oceanic Hotel has had a very satisfactory season. While the patronage has not been as large as the management would have liked, yet on the whole, considering the falling off in business at other seaside resorts, the Oceanic Hotel did a very good business, much better, in fact, than was indicated early in the season. None of the resorts did the usual amount of business this Summer, due, in a measure, it is thought ,to the tightness of the money market, and the seaside places seemed to have suffered most of all. Wrightsville Beach beat them all out in the matter of patronage and upon the whole the season there has been a very satisfactory one. A large part of this business went to the Oceanic Hotel.

Mr. Chas. E. Hooper, the manager, will return to his home in Washington, D. C. He has not yet decided what connection he will make for the Fall and Winter, but has several attractive hotel propositions open for consideration. Mr. G. F. Meals, one of the popular clerks, will leave in a day or two for his home at Harrisburg, Pa., and when Mr. Hooper locates he will go with him. Mr. W. E. Pennington, the chief clerk, who is ending his steenth season at the resort, adding fresh laurels to his reputation as one of the most capable and popular men that have ever assumed the arduous duties of clerk at a resort hotel, will leave Saturday night for Tarboro, his home, and after a few days spent there will go back to the "key", being relief telegraph operator of the Atlantic Coast Line.

The Oceanic Hotel began Saturday to turn away persons desiring accommodations for a period longer than the management expected to stay open and these went to other places on the beach.

It is expected that there will be a large number of arrivals at the beach this week to stay until all the places close. There are a large number at the Seashort Hotel now and most of these will remain until the end of the week.

COMMERCE OF LOCAL PORT.

Appears in Nation's Business Along With Summary of Other Ports.

Nation's Business, the official publication of the United States Chamber of Commerce, in a recent edition gives an interesting summary of the business at American ports for the past year, compared with other ports for the past year which shows a substantial increase in almost every incident, and in reference to Wilmington has the following:

"The commerce through the port of Wilmington has shown marked increase during the past year. The business as a whole amounted to $60,863,344 for the year as compared with $59,279,508 for the previous year. It should be explained, however, that these figures include coastwise imports. As a customs district Wilmington has shown a steady increase in the last twenty years, both in exports and in imports. The figures for 1913 are not included in this comparison as they are not yet available, with coastwise imports eliminated.

	Exports.	Increase.	P. C. of Increase.
1892	$ 5,321,414	.....	.....
1902	11,102,171	$ 5,780,757	108
1912	28,705,448	17,603,277	158
	Imports.	Increase.	P. C. of Increase.
1892	$ 184,077	.....	.....
1902	258,908	73,831	39
1912	3,090,703	2,831,895	1,094

The exports for 1913 are specified as follows:

Commodity.	Amount.	Value.
Cotton	464,699 bales	$29,068,750
Cross Ties	61,807	246,141
Fish Oil	730 bbls	13,940
Turpentine Spirits	5,020 bbls	203,400
Tar	2,543 bbls	203,400

Lumber, Plain	24,623,974 feet	492,480

Homicides in Charlotte.

While the number of crimes of violence in Wilmington is larger than it should be the city is by no means the worst place in the State as respects crime of this class. The following is from yesterday's Charlotte Observer: "One week's term of criminal court convenes this morning at 10 o'clock, Judge T. J. Shaw, of Greensboro, presiding. There are a number of serious cases on the docket, including some seven homicide cases, though it is not likely more than one or two of these will be tried. In one of the cases five negroes are to be tried on the charge of strangling another negro man to death in a cocaine dive in the city."

Burglary Case Continued.

The trial of John Skipper, a young white boy, of Delgado, who is charged with store breaking, was begun yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock. After hearing testimony for two hours Justice Harriss decided to wait until this morning to hear further evidence as there seemed little likelihood of finishing before a late hour last night. Skipper is one of several young men, of Delgado, who are charged with breaking into stores. He is being held in jail pending the result of the trial. He was arrested last week in Lumberton.

Will Institute New Council.

Wilmington is to have a third council of the Junior Order and already 60 applications for membership have been received. Mr. L. O. Smith, of George Washington Council, is leading in the movement for the organization of the new council. It is hoped perfect organization of the new council on Thursday night September 4th. There are several hundred Juniors in Wilmington. The first council, Jeff Davis, No. 63, was organized by Mr. W. E. Yopp, some years ago.

Charged With Selling Whiskey.

William Foy, colored, was arrested Saturday by Officers H. Mack Godwin, Reynolds, Tyndall and Kelly, at his residence on Taylor street, between Fifth and Sixth. He gave bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance in Justice Harriss' court today for trial. There were found to be three trap doors at his home and beneath one of these was found in 10 half pints of whiskey.

ACTION ON BONDS DEFERRED

Bids Submitted to Commissioners Yesterday Found to be Unsatisfactory—Meeting Again at Noon Today.

Five bids were submitted to the County Commissioners yesterday for the $50,000 of road and the $75,000 of school bonds, bearing 5 per cent. interest, voted May 27th, none of which was satisfactory to the board, and none was accepted, action being deferred until a meeting called for 12 o'clock today, when the Commissioners will again receive offers, and decide whether they will take the best proposition made, or call the whole thing off and borrow enough money to run on until the taxes begin to come in.

The bids were submitted by the Security Trust Co., of Spartanburg, S. C.; R. M. Grant & Co., of New York; Mayer Deppe & Walter, of Cincinnati; the Murchison National Bank, of Wilmington, and one for $3,000 at par was from Mr. R. J. Jones, but was not considered. Bond buyers for several other houses were present, but did not make an offer, expecting just such a termination of the meeting, and these will very likely come in with bids today. The bidders yesterday and anybody else who wants to make a bid, may submit same at today's meeting.

The Security Trust Co., of Spartanburg, offered par and accrued interest, the county to furnish the bonds and approved legal opinion; the company to control the deposit of the money, and it was stipulated that the proceeds of the bonds should be used only for future work. Chairman Willard informed the representative at once that his bid could not be considered, as the Commissioners expected to immediately pay out $10,000 or $12,000 for work already done on roads and bridges. As to the control of deposit, it was the opinion of the county attorney that the Commissioners had nothing to do with that, that Auditor Orrell would have the say-so, the law saying the money should be turned over to him and he should deposit it, and require an indemnity bond from the bank receiving it.

R. M. Grant & Co., offered par and accrued interest, the county to allow a certain sum, to be agreed on, for preparing the bonds and legal advice. Mayer, Deppe & Walter offered the same. The Murchison National Bank bid par and accrued interest on $10,000 of the bonds.

Chairman Willard stated that he wished to have a conference with leading citizens, large taxpayers and local bankers before decisive action was taken. Chairman J. O. Carr, of the board of education, was present, and he stated, relative to the deposit of the funds, that he would call a meeting of his board for 10 o'clock this morning, to put in shape any information about how long the school money would be left on deposit, so that the bidders might calculate on this in making up their bids. He stated that owing to the lateness of the Summer, little could be done in the way of spending the money on school buildings, and that outside of what it would take for the smaller school houses, the bulk of the money would be on deposit until next Spring. This would have important bearing on the bids if the funds are to be deposited in banks designated by the bond buyers. Chairman Willard stated that outside of the $10,000 or $12,000 to be checked out immediately, the road money would be checked at about the rate of $3,000 a month. Meanwhile the law as to depositing the funds will be looked up and made clear.

The representative of the Spartanburg bidder stated that his bid could be modified as to how the money should be spent, but he pointed out that in the present state of financial affairs, the only profit in handling the bonds would come through the deposit of the funds. His proposition made the other representatives talk about the deposit feature, and it may be that they will incorporate some such provision in their bids, if the law allows the money to be deposited outside the city and State.

All members of the board were present yesterday, with County Attorney Bellamy and Auditor Orrell and Clerk Williams. Several other matters were attended to. The Northeast river bridge again came up for discussion, the width of the draw being the topic. Commissioners Yopp and McGirt were for making the bridge company come up to specifications, the fenders being 2 1-2 feet too narrow at one point. The government cannot approve the work as it is, but has evidenced a willingness to ignore the point raised. A letter is expected from the bridge company in a few days. The county owes $2,000 on the bridge, and the change in the fenders would cost $1,200.

Mr. John J. Fowler, recently elected coroner, filed his bond for $2,000 and the same was approved and filed. It is given in the United States Fidelity & Trust Co.

Coupons to the amount of $4,480 were counted and incinerated by Clerk Williams in a rusty old iron pot provided for this specific purpose. The coupons were on bond issues as follows: 1902, series 23, numbered from 1 to 50, $1,125; 1905 series 16, from 1 to 50, $1,000; 1908, series 10, numbered from 1 to 50, $1,125; 1911, series 4,46 coupons, numbered from 1 to 21 and 25 to 49, $1,035.

An order was made to pay one-half of a ticket bill for $24, the city paying half, same being on account of sending charity cases to their homes. The board demurred slightly, and thought that hereafter the chairman should approve of these cases before the county paid its half of the bill. Commissioner Moore brought a laugh by suggesting that the immortal ratio of one-fifth and four-fifths be observed by city and county in shipping unlucky wights to their home base.

A bill for $4.50 from J. M. Walker for a gate in the county fence at Scott's Hill was ordered paid. A refund of $44 was ordered made to Mr. J. O. Reilly on account of error in valuation of the J. W. Gerdis property. Commissioner McGirt noted that two negro boys, John Bryan and Irving Sampson, had been sent to jail for three months with privilege to the Commissioners to hire out, and as they are needed on the farm, it was decided to ask the Recorder to change the sentence.

WHITE MAN SHOOTS NEGRO

Given Six Months on Roads By Recorder—Alleged Assailants of Robert McMillan, Colored, Given Six Months Each.

To have a pistol bullet shot directly against his forehead without being seriously hurt is the experience of Robert Diggs, colored, who on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock while playing cards in a shanty near the new union station was shot by B. Campbell, a white man. Robert was able to go to the hospital to have the wound treated, and yesterday morning was in the Recorder's court to testify in the case against Campbell who was tried for an assault with a deadly weapon.

The Recorder after hearing the evidence sentenced Campbell to serve six months on the county roads, and stated that he took off six months because Campbell says he has a wife and baby living in Washington, D. C.

According to the testimony of Diggs he and another negro were playing "five up" in a shanty near the union station Sunday morning. Campbell came in and wanted to take part in the game, but Diggs said he told him that he couldn't do so, and shoved him away. Later he came back and dared Diggs to push him away again. When Diggs got up he fired the pistol point blank at him, the bullet striking him against the forehead just above the bridge of the nose. It was flattened out and passed through the skin to the upper part of his forehead. Diggs' statement were corroborated by several other negroes who were present at the time.

Campbell went on the stand in his own behalf, and did not deny shooting Diggs, but stated that he went in the first time to get a drink of water when he was shoved rudely to one side by Diggs. He went out and borrowed a pistol, and came back and said something to Diggs about pushing him in such a rough manner. When Diggs started towards him he fired. He said that he was from Washington, D. C., where he has a wife and child living. He had been in Wilmington about five weeks, and was working on the new union station.

Acting Solicitor Peisson for the State did not speak at length as he contended that Campbell by his own admission was guilty and ought to thank a kind providence that he was not in the court charged with homicide. The defendant was represented by Woodus Kellum, Esq., who made an earnest plea for his client. He admitted the shooting but thought there were enough extenuating circumstances to allow the court to let him off with a heavy fine. The Recorder, however, was firm in his decision.

Jim Edwards and York Waters, both colored were tried on a charge of having been members of a party of negroes who assanited Robert McMillan, colored, on the night of August 20th, supposedly because he had assisted the police officers in getting up evidence against several blind tigers recently. They attempted to prove an alibi for themselves, but their story did not have much coherence although it was corroborated by several other witnesses. They proved bad characters, each having served several sentences on the county roads. The Recorder ordered that each be sent to the roads for six months.

John Bird, colored, got six months on the roads for having fired two shots into the house of his wife's sister, Lula Lucas. Luckily he didn't hit anybody, and only scarred the mantel a slight bit.

Hattie Davis, colored, got busy the other night, so it was said, and battered up on one side of her husbands face with an axe. She was cited to appear before Justice Harriss Saturday but failed to do so, whereupon a capias was issued and she was arrested. She was before the Recorder yesterday. There were no eye witnesses to the alleged attack except her husband, and according to the law of this country a man cannot testify against his wife and Hattie went free.

A nol pros, with leave was taken in the case of T. P. Edwards ,charged with striking his wife as it appeared that they had "made up," and didn't want to quarrel any more. James Nance, colored, charged with getting money under false pretense, was found not guilty. The case against John Burns, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was continued until today.

Louis Winberg and Herbet Fentress, two colored boys, got into a fight and were arrested. The Recorder on account of their youth ordered that the cases against them be nol prossed with leave. H. P. Williams, charged with engaging in an affray with Drake Zellars was found not guilty. The case against Zellers was nol prossed, it appearing that he had entered a submission before Justice Harriss. There were five persons up for being drunk, and these were fined and taxed with the costs.

The bride is a most charming young lady and had been visiting in this city during the Summer. Mr. and Mrs. Bellamy have taken apartments at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Montgomery, corner Eighth and Princess streets, and will make their home there. Mr. Bellamy is connected with the Bellamy Grocery & Produce Co., of this city.

MOTORMAN IS EXONERATED

Coroner's Jury Finds That Freight Car Which Ran Over Miss Ethel Bostick Saturday Was Poorly Equipped.

Mr. Lucien D. Bishop, the motorman in charge of the freight train of the Tidewater Power Company, which ran over and killed Miss Ethel Bostick, Saturday, was exonerated by the coroner's jury which returned its verdict late yesterday afternoon. It was further found that the freight train was poorly equipped with appliances. No evidence was taken yesterday afternoon by the jury, but before returning a verdict they visited the scene of the tragic accident near Audubon station, making the trip on the same freight train that was being used Saturday.

Following is the verdict in substance as turned over to Coroner John J. Fowler:

"We find that Miss Bostick came to her death by being knocked down and run over near Audubon Station by a freight train of the Tidewater Power Company in charge of L. D. Bishop. We find further that the said Bishop did everything possible to stop the car with the poor equipment at his command, and we hereby release him from any culpability. We find further that this train was poorly equipped, having neither air brake nor whistle, and only one hand brake, which was at the rear end of the front car. There was also no fender in front of this car, with the exception of two boards under the car, which were used as a fender, but were of no practical use."

Following the accident Saturday morning, Coroner Fowler placed Mr. Bishop under arrest, and he was released under a bond of $1,000, with Capt. W. F. Corbett as surety, pending the investigation by the coroner's jury. After their verdict was returned yesterday afternoon, he was, of course, discharged.

Funeral of Miss Bostick.

The body of Miss Bostick was taken to Wallace Sunday morning, on the 8:30 train. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schulken and Mr. Roger Schulken accompanied the remains. The funeral was held Sunday morning at 11:30 o'clock at Rock Fish church, near Wallace, conducted by Rev. M. P. H. Currie. Her death came as a severe shock to her home people, and there was a large concourse of sorrowing friends at the sad funeral service.

The interment was at the Rock Fish graveyard.

THOSE SKIRTS.

By S. A. M.

You may talk of things in general,
Or in any other way,
You can read the daily papers,
And find lots of things to say—
But when you come to sift it down,
I think that you'll declare
The topic that's of most renown
Is the Skirts the Women wear.

You may talk of things political,
Such as the tariff law;
Or turn your conversation to
The escape of Harry Thaw;
But before your talk is ended
I think you will admit,
Your conversation's drifted to
The Skirt that's got the Slit.

You may talk of murder trials,
You may talk of so and so;
You may talk of California Japs,
Or war with Mexico;
You may talk of this and that thing,
'Till your face is black and blue,
But the most important subject is
The Skirt you can See through.

Judge Rountree to Columbus.

Judge George Rountree left Sunday afternoon for Whiteville, where he is presiding this week over the regular term of Columbus county Superior Court. This is the first term of court in Columbus since Judge Rountree became judge of the new Judicial District and it is his second term of court, his first having been held in this county in July. In September, beginning on the 8th, he will hold another term in this county.

PLEASED WITH WILMINGTON

Mr. Gordon C. Corbaley, Secretary-Manager Chamber of Commerce of Spokane, Wash., Here Yesterday.

"You have the foundation in the way of natural advantages for a city on the Atlantic coast which will correspond to what Los Angeles, Cal., is to the Pacific coast." said Mr. Gordon C. Corbaley, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce of Spokane, Wash., who spent Sunday and yesterday in the city making investigations of certain methods of wood distilling in use by the National Wood Distilling Company, of this city.

Mr. Corbaley is spending a month in the East getting data on several industries which he hopes to introduce into his far Western home city. He spent a week in New England making investigations of the shoe factories of that section. He next visited New York, where he spent a week looking into the cloak, clothing and hosiery industries. He leaves for Jacksonville, N. C., this morning to inspect the plant of the Lacawanna Wood Products Company, and will leave tonight for Pittsburg, Pa., to investigate the glass industry. Before returning home he will visit several cities in the Middle West.

Mr. Corbaley is a fine type of the Western business man. He spent the day yesterday with Mr. Harold M. Chase, president of the National Wood Distilling Co. In company with him he visited the plant of the Spiritine Chemical Company. He also conferred with Mr. Thomas Pritchard, chemical engineer. He had a full day, and yesterday afternoon when seen by a Star representative he was at the plant of the National Wood Distilling Company, corner Surry and Castle streets, busily engaged in making experiments. Sunday he visited Wrightsville Beach, and also looked over other parts of the city.

Wonderful Possibilities.

"What do you think of Wilmington?" he was asked.

"I am very much interested in your city," he replied, "for I think that it has wonderful possibilities. You have a productive soil and fine harbor facilities together with plenty of outlets by rail. What you most need, I think, is more boosters. In Spokane where I live we have from 4,000 to 5,000 newcomers every year. This does not include transients, but people who come to stay. Naturally they have to find a place for themselves, and they keep those already there hustling, for if they do not, they know that they will be left behind by the younger population that is constantly coming in.

"I am here primarily to get data on certain wood distilling processes which I hope to introduce into my section. Some time ago I sent several samples of wood to Mr. Chase, and the experiments he made showed that the same high grade of turpentine, tar and oils could be extracted from our pine woods as from those of your section. It may interest you to know that we saw up every year a billion and two million feet of lumber in our immediate section. One lumber mill, the Pottlelatch Lumber Co., saws every day 750,000 feet of lumber, which will give you some idea of the large concerns that we have.

"According to government reports, there are 260 billion feet of standing merchantable timber which at the present rate of consumption will last for 200 years yet. The idea I have in mind now is to utilize the residue of the mills, and the stumps in making turpentine and oils as you are doing here in order that there may not be any loss. The pines that grow in our section, white and yellow pines, are different from yours. However, our experiments show that they produce just as good a grade of material as those here."

Mr. Corbaley was asked what he thought of the possibilities of this section as a fruit growing center and in reply stated:

Fruit Growing Soil.

"So far as I can see the sandy soil of this section is almost identically the same as that of the Wenatchee section, which is one of the great fruit growing sections of Washington, and ships more than 4,000 car loads of fruit each year to Eastern points, besides the large amounts used at home. To give you an idea of the wonderful development possible along this line I can best illustrate it by telling you something of what has been done in a section of country above Spokane.

"Seven years ago this was a sandy desert extending up the valley for a distance of 18 miles. It was not inhabited for it was not possible to raise anything on it. It has since been irrigated by boring deep water wells, and the water is pumped out by means of electricity. More than 900 families have moved in and today Spokane county alone has more than four million fruit trees.

"A few weeks ago I went up this valley, and when I saw the handsome bungalows, the beautiful, well kept gardens and the hundreds of orchards with everything kept in perfect trim, it seemed to me like a veritable Garden of Eden. It hardly seemed possible that all this had been done in seven years. It may interest you to know that 90 per cent of our population has moved in within the last 15 years. Ours is a new country, but we are proud of the splendid progress that we are making along all lines."

Favors Woman Suffrage.

Remembering that Washington is one of the recent States to introduce woman suffrage, The Star man was anxious to learn how it was working out there.

"Woman suffrage has proven to be a splendid success with us," Mr. Corbaley said in reply, "and we would not for a moment think of changing back to the old form. Wherever there is a clean-cut moral issue you can bank on the women every time to vote on the right side of the question, which is more than you can say for the men. They are apt to vote for Tom Smith and Jim Jones because they are fine fellows without thinking about the question at issue, but not so with the women. They must know how the man they vote for stands on public questions. There is no doubt but that it has 'made good' in Washington, and when you have it in North Carolina you will not regret it."

Mr. Corbaley is a former newspaper man, but as he expressed it yesterday, he got out of the game some time ago in order to get into a business where he could make some money. He is an all round good fellow, and keeps busy every minute thinking out new ways by which he can increase the wonderful opportunities of his section. Spokane is a city of 120,000 people, and is growing bigger every day. One can well believe that Mr. Corbaley has had much to do with its wonderful growth within the last few years.

Miss Pattie Aaron, of Mt. Olive, is visiting Miss Estelle Davis, at Wrightsville Beach.

Ex-Congressmah G. B. Patterson, of Maxton, is a guest at The Seashore Hotel for a few days.

Mrs. Edgar L. Hinton has returned from Hendersonville, where she spent several days at Kanuga Club.

A feature of the concert at Lumina Sunday night was a trombone solo by Mr. M. Greenblat, the leader. The concerts Sunday were very much enjoyed and the orchestra had to respond to a number of encores.

The week-end excursion rates put on by the Atlantic Coast Line brought the largest number of visitors Sunday that have come in during any one day this Summer. The total number was 1,655. Practically all these returned to their homes Sunday night.

The special train which came in Sunday morning from Atlanta did not bring as large a number of visitors to total numberof passengers was 105 total number o fpassengers was 105. These will spend several days at the beach, and will return on the regular trains.

Mr. J. Shepard Bryan left yesterday for his home at Scott's Hill, where he will spend several weeks before going to Chapel Hill to resume his studies at the State University. He spent the Summer at the beach being first connected with the Hanover Inn and for the last month with the Oceanic Hotel.

A fine bill is offered for the moving picture exhibition at Lumina tonight. The leading feature is a two reel Biograph picture entitled "Oil and Water." This is a story of the stage in which classical Greek dances are shown. "The Bear Hunter," a Pathe Indian story and "Don't Lie to Your Husband," a comedy by the Essanay company, complete the programme.

"Polly Peachtree," who writes the principal society gossip of The Atlanta Sunday American, had the following in Sunday's paper that will be of interest here and to visitors at the beach:

"A very dear friend of mine has just returned from Wrightsville Beach with a burget of gossip. Some of it is too scandalous to repeat, but there are one or two things that happened that I simply must tell about.

"One concerns a young Atlanta girl and an almost as young and charming Atlanta matron. Both shall be nameless. It seems that the young matron does not care much for the young girl, and her feeling is reciprocated. Both were stopping at the same hotel.

"The girl one night happened to be one of a merry party which was holding forth in a room just over the veranda where the matron sat. The party was joyous and therefore noisy. The shrieks of laughter and the singing o fthe young people grated on the ears of the matron, who made several protescts to the manager of the hotel.

"That did no good, so she sat in high dudgeon and made biting remarks about the gay young people. A late comer to the party passing along the veranda heard what she had to say and went upstairs and told about it. At this the Atlanta girl, with a daring greater than her discretion, took a bottle of something (let's be charitable and say that it was ginger ale) and going to the window proceeded to empty its contents upon the wrathy lady below. The result was a series of furious shrieks and a still more deadly feeling between the fair foes.

"Another story concerns a well-known Atlanta doctor—known as much among my sex for a bristling gray goatee and a disagreeable fastidiousness as for his professional skill. This M. D. conceived a very great admiration for a vivacious and popular Atlanta girl who was at the resort, and he sought her at every opportunity, much to her annoyance. She managed to evade him very well for a couple of days, but when she found herself cornered in the ballroom during a dance one night, with the dread figure bearing down on her with goatee pointing straight forward she resolved upon desperate measures.

"'May I have this dance?' suavely inquired he of the goatee.

"'Oh, I am sorry,' replied the young lady, 'but I don't dance.'

"Then, with deliberation born of the torment she had been through, she turned to a young man who had been standing with her and said, in her most charming manner:

"'Come on, shall we finish this.'

"And they glided away over the floor, leaving the doctor standing open-mouthed, but with the goatee drooping.

"Of course, it goes without saying that the young lady had no further trouble with the persistent one.

"The funnny part about it was that just the other day I was talking about this man with another girl here in Atlanta who had almost the same sort of experience with him. This girl, whom I consider the most charming in Atlanta, told me that she had been frequently annoyed by this man, and that one day while she was waiting for a street car to take her to town he approached and made known his intention to ride with her. So anxious was she to get rid of him she told him she was going the other way, and to make good her "bluff" took a street car and rode for blocks in the other direction to escape.

"Atlantans returning from Wrightsville have brought back tales of a new drink which they have introduced at the clubs. It is called the 'Ocean Mint.' I don't know what it is made of, but I took a wee sip of one of them the other night and I must admit that it tasted alluring.

"John Drew, the actor is also credited with being the originator of a recipe, but his concoction would hardly come under the name of a drink. He calls it the 'Seaside Cocktail,' and his directions are as follows:

"'To make a seaside cocktail,' he says, 'mix a pretty summer girl with a brown young business man, and soak in moonlight every evening from 9 to 11. Stir with the tango and bunny hug and grizzy bear as played by the hotel's Hungarian orchestra, and squeeze in a dark corner of the plaza between dances. Garnish with sea baths, motor rides and moonlight clam bakes. Serve with an engagement ring.'"

Obstinate Acne Quickly Yields

Fine Remedy that Clears Skin of Pimples on Cheeks, Temples, Sides of Nose and Chin.

Acne attacks the glandular structure of the skin, more particularly those tiny glands that secrete fat.

And it is here that S. S. S., the famous blood purifier is most active in its influence.

There is one ingredient in S. S. S., the purpose of which it is to stimulate the cells in the tissues that they select from the blood the nutriment that makes new skin and thus eliminates all irritants, acids and parasites that inflame the glands. There is a natural tendency of the fine network of blood vessels in the skin to throw off impurities, but where a persistent inflammation process has invaded the skin, the natural repair work of the blood is interfered with. It requires the stimulating activity of S. S. S. to overcome such morbid conditions. If you have been troubled with acne, do not despair of a cure.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. Take no chance with a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist freely, address the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Company, 181 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

WITH THE MOVIES

Indeed good things the best dan biggest of good things, multiply at the handsome, cozy Grand Theatre, and so there today another big show will greet Wilmington amusement-lovers, to immensely delight them. They can at the same time, enjoy solid comfort, because the Grand is certainly a cool and perfectly ventilated spot.

Edison will offer the topliner today, which is a big fun picture. It is "Othello in Jonesville" and tells how an actor, who has been barn-storming and is strapped, attempts to present the Shakespearean classic with a village cast. The Biograph's "A Timely Inception" is also a star today and it is a dramatic with a swing and a grip. Pathe will also offer its latest in "The Broken Idyll." It is something new in the way of a theme and is treated in superb manner. A big show for a small sum of 5 cents.

The Popular Bijou.

In charming manner the popular Bijou—the theatre that is electrically cooled and electrically ventilated—opened its new week yesterday, and big audiences were on hand to enjoy teh occasion and shower the Bijou management with compliments Today rolls around another swell offering, one that will delight every one. It is headed by a rousing Selig comedy, "Two Artists and One Suit of Clothes," and it is a big tonic. It tells a laughable tale of embarrassment from a shortage in dress.

A great Pathe Weekly, the latest and the most interesting, is also a star feature today. It tells of current events in the United States and carries the onlookers all over he country, coming to a mirthful climax with a "Mutt and Jeff" picture.

"In Moro Land" is also a great film on today, while another of like high quality is "The Moros," an aerial turn with a new thrill and set forth in colors.

There is still another, "How Plaster is Obtained," making in all five big films on today without the tiny price of admission of 5 cents, any and all the time, being raised.

HERO SAVES OWN LIFE.

Slashes Wound Inflicted by Fish, and Swims Long Distance in Ocean.

Atlantic City, N. J., August 25.—Wounded in the left heel by a stingray, whose sting is poisonous, John Swanson slashed his heel to the bone with a fish knife, leaped overboard and swam a mile and a half today at Beach Haven. He was found unconscious on the shore and carried to the office of Dr. Herbert Willis, who believes Swanson's heroic treatment and the effects of the salt water will save the patient's life.

The doctor says Swanson would have died before his boat could have reached shore because it would have been necessary to travel 15 miles in order to follow the channel.

German passenger dirigibles carried 10,291 persons on regular trips last year, without killing or injuring one of them.

COTTON ACTIVE AND EXCITED

Unfavorable New Crop Out—Turn Reflects Increasing Apprehension Prices Make New High Ground Heavy Realizing on the Advance.

New York, Aug. 25.—The cotton market was active and excited today, with prices making new high ground for the movement, on general buying, which reflected increasing apprehension of an unfavorable new crop outturn. There was heavy realizing on the advance, and some of the old bull interests were credited with taking profits on fully 150,000 bales, but fresh buying for long account and further covering prevented anything more than slight reactions, and the market closed very steady, at a net gain of from 23 to 28 points.

Early weather advices indicating that the scattered showers reported on the decline of Friday had been followed by a renewal of dry weather in the Southwest, and bullish private crop accounts seemed to have attracted considerable attention abroad, and the cables showed a sharp advance.

The local market opened firm, at an advance of 11 to 17 points in consequence, and quickly sold about 15 to 22 points net higher. Realizing caused slight reactions from this level, but the report of a prominent Memphis authority placing the average condition of the crop at only 69.6, against 79.7 last month and 74.8 last year, was against any aggressive selling for short account. Local bulls, who had been active buyers last week, were credited with selling freely on the advance, but houses with foreign connections, New Orleans, Memphis, and the Southwest, were buyers here, while there was also an active demand from Wall street, and local shorts. This readily absorbed realizing sales, and the market reached the best point of the day in the late trading, when December and later deliveries made new high records for the season.

Closing prices were within a point or two of the best. In addition to the unfavorable condition report from Memphis, there were numerous private advices claiming a poor crop outlook from both Western and Eastern Section of the belt, and one of the Private wires from Oklahoma estimated the crop in that State at only 750,000 bales.

Expectations of a bullish weekly weather report and of other bullish private conditions reports before the end of the week doubtless contributed to the advance.

Spot cotton, quiet. Middling uplands, 12.45; do. gulf, 12.70; sales, 200 bales.

The cotton futures closed very steady.

THE COTTON GOODS MARKET.

New York, Aug. 25.—The downward revisions in the prices of standard prints and shirtings was the feature of the primary cotton goods market. The former were reduced one-half cent a yard, while the latter were cut one-quarter cent. Several lines of gray goods were moved up one-eighth cent to one-fourth cent a yard, and one line of cotton cheviots was advanced one-fourth cent a yard. There was a steady application by the jobbers for filling in purposes. The demand for woolen and worsted dress goods was irregular. Raw silk continued to go upward. Japanese raw silk values touched the highest levels since 1907.

LIMITED TRADING IN STOCKS

Professional Tarders Have Charge of The Market—Relations Between United States and Mexico Dominant Factor in Situation.

New York, Aug. 25.—There was no expectation today that movements in stocks would reveal any definite conclusions on the part of professional traders who have taken almost exclusive charge of the market recently. Relations between this country and Mexico are recognized on every hand as the most important factor in the present situation, and there was a strong disinclination to make new commitments pending the expected publication tomorrow of President Wilson's message on the subject. Trading was on a limited scale, final quotations disclosing few changes of as much as a point on the day among the more active stocks.

In spite of the hesitancy, the undertone was fairly strong, and in the early trading there was a rather general advance. The day's news, while not sufficiently important to exert any marked influence on values, was of the kind which makes for optimism. Several large New England cotton mills resumed operations after along period of idleness.

Among the special movements, Can stocks were conspicuous, both common and preferred rising smartly. St. Paul, the Coalers and the Metal stocks were strongest of the standard shares. The Harriman shares lagged behind. Profit-taking sales caused a general recession after numerous gains of a point or more had been recorded. New Haven again developed conspicuous weakness, falling more than two points to a new low record, at 96¾.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $1,200,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales were 160,200 shares, including A. C. L., 200; C. and O., 2,700; L. V., 3,400; L. and N., 300; N. and W., 300; S. A. L., 200; do. pfd., 100; Southern Railway, 400; T. C., 300; U. S. Steel, 36,000; do., pfd., 300; V.-C. C., 600.

SOUTHPORT NEGRO SHOT.

Watchman John Reese Puts a Ball Through One of Hs Trotters.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., Aug. 25.—At the W. B. & S. station last night Riley Brown, a colored youth was shot through the thigh by the railroad watchman, John Reese, white. According to the story of the watchman, Brown with a number of other colored persons was standing about the station, and on the side reserved for whites, they were ordered away by Reese, all leaving but Brown, who showing no disposition to move on, was placed under arrest by the watchman. Refusing to accept this, Brown broke away and ran towards the cemetery, the watchman calling to stop or he would shoot, and as the fleeing man kept going, Reese fired and brought him to a stop.

The local team "put it all over" the Fort Caswell team Saturday in a game of base ball, the score being 13 to nothing. The soldiers wene to pieces in the third allowing 6 runs, after this it was but a question of how many runs could be scored. The pitching of "Buck" Galloway was airtight, and he was supported by Billy St. George and the rest of the team. The hitting of Charlie Watts was the bating feature of the game, he getting a home run, 3-bagger, 2-bagger and two singles, in five times up.

The heavy rain o fSunday caused a washout on the W. B. & S. railroad at Bryant's Siding, just above Landale, the passenger train reaching here at 12:30 A. M. Sunday.

Visitors here have during the past week greatly enjoyed the fishing, and brought in some fine strings of trout. The catch of flounders continues, the local market receiving numbers daily.

The fox hunters are out each morning before day, and have brought in two or more "brushes" to show for the runs.

When Well Known Wilmington People Tell It so Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Wilmington the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every sufferer of kidney backache, every man, woman or child with kidney trouble will do well to read the following:

R. A. Biddle, 606 Castle St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I suffered from my kidneys and back for a long time and another of my family also complained of backache. Finally, we got Doan's Kidney Pills at Bellamy's drug store and the results of their use were astonishing. The secretions from my kidneys were cleared and the pain and backache left. I have no reason whatever to alter my high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills. They made a permanent cure in my case and I am always glad to say a good word for them."

trumped up charge now whispered about and no self respecting one of the States would assist the fixers of this famous charge.

"Thaw's fellow citizens would be shocked if Canada would where another State in the United States itself would not."

Aside from the row about the breakfast Thaw had a clash with the old jail governor, LaForce, over two old newspapers. The governor started to pick up a sheet that lay on the floor.

"Don't touch that paper," cried Thaw.

"I was only going to remove it," said LaForce. "Don't be angry with me."

Thaw took the paper from LaForce's hand. It had been folded so that a picture of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw could be seen.

"That paper is of great importance to me. I can't have it disturbed. As a matter of fact, I'm not angry, but I am likely to be soon unless a newspaper which was taken from my room yesterday is returned. If you don't get it for me, I'll get it myself."

The prisoner got telegrams today from two lawyers guaranteeing him security from extradition if he would come to the States. One letter was from Norfolk, Va. He also received about 50 letters of sympathy and free advice today.

MULHALL AGAIN TESTIFIES.

Exchange With Lawyers Fiery—Angry Witness Threatens Violence.

Washington, Aug. 25.—Representative J. T. McDermott's defense to charges brought in the House Lobby investigation began today with cross examination, with Martin M. Mulhall, author of the expose which pictured the National Association of Manufacturers as the maker and breaker of many Congressmen.

Mulhall swore the New York World, which published his story, was now paying him $100 a week. His passages with McDermott's lawyers were fiery and sprinkled with invitations to "come outside."

Cross examination developed that on one recent visit to The World office Mulhall was accompanied by Senator Reed, of the Senate Lobby committee.

G. G. West, private secretary to McDermott, told the committee he did not know Mulhall, and branded the latter's story of the use of a "secret room" in the basement of the Capitol as headquarters for spies upon Congressmen as false.

Mulhall told of trying to dispose of his letters to William R. Hearst. Perriton Maxwell, editor of one of Hearst's magazines, told Mulhall the only reason he could advance for Hearst's lack of interest was "that he thought it would help the present administration."

Attorneys for McDermott declared they wished to prove Mulhall's bias, impugn his credibility, and question his accuracy and veracity. Chairman Garrett said they would have all possible lattitude.

Mulhall was questioned closely about his trip in the Spring of 1912 to help McDermott in his primary campaign, when, he swore, he spent 22 days in Chicago, and got back to Baltimore on April 19th. The $250 check from Harold F. McCormick to the McDermott fund which Mulhall cashed in Baltimore figured again in the testimony. Attorney James S. Easby-Smith, for McDermott, read a letter Mulhall wrote to I. H. McMichael in June, in which he referred to his return to Baltimore on April 8th.

"That's the time you did get there, Mr. Mulhall," said Attorney Smith.

"I want to state positively," said Mulhall, shaking his finger at the lawyer, "that man's a liar."

Chairman Garrett, of the committee ordered the remarks stricken from the record and cautioned Mulhall to refrain from using such language. Easby-Smith promised to produce witnesses to swear that Mulhall cashed the $250 McCormick check in Baltimore about April 9th.

Mulhall became angry again when the lawyer pressed him for an explanation of one of his expense accounts referrring to the employment of a stenographer to do work in the "secret room" in the Capitol. The lawyer asked him point blank if he had not made out a false account.

"That's a dirty insinuation," shouted Mulhall. "If that gentleman don't stop this I'll throw a glass at him. This is the second time he has insulted me."

Mulhall admitted several discrepancies in his testimony, but explained them as being "typographical errors."

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Williams and McLaughlin Win Places in the Finals.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 25.—With comparatively little exertion, R. Norris Williams, second, of Philadelphia, and Maurice E. McLoughlin, of San Francisco, the title winner of 1912, won their places today in the finals of the all-comers tournament for the National Lawn Tennis Championship.

Those who fell before their raquets were Nathaniel W. Niles, of Boston, who lost to Williams, in a four set match, 6-4, 7-5, 3-6 and 6-1 and Wallace F. Johnson, of Philadelphia, who succumbed to McLoughlin in straight sets 6-0 7-5, 6-1.

Williams will seek tomorrow to wrest the title from McLoughlin, but not one person in four in the Casino tonight thought sufficiently well of his chances to back him.

The 33rd championship of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, t obe awarded tomorrow, now lies between two of the members of the winning Davis cup team. The silver bowl is the seventh contributed by he Casino management and a player to secure permanent possession of it, must win it three times. McLoughlin already has one leg on it, and is a 4 to 1 favorite over Williams for the championship.

Tan, Red or Freckled Skin is Easily Shed

To free your summer-soiled skin of its oiliness, muddiness, freckles, blotches or tan, the best thing to do is to free yourself of the skin itself. This is easily accomplished by the use of ordinary mercolized wax, which can be had at any drug store. Use at night as you use cold cream, washing it off in the morning. Immediately the offending surface skin begins to come off in fine powder-like particles. Gradually the entire cuticle is absorbed, without pain or inconvenience. The second layer of skin, now in evidence, presents a spotless whiteness and sparkling beauty obtainable in no other way I've ever heard of.

If the heat tends to loosen and wrinkle your skin, there's an effective and harmless remedy you can readily make at home. Just let an ounce of powdered saxolite dissolve in a half pint witch hazel and bathe your face in the lotion. This at once tightens the skin and smooths out the lines, making you look years younger. —Emily Coulson in Popular Monthly.

banks, notes or bills intended for dealing in future or for marginal trading on agricultural products. Representative Gray, of Indiana, in the principal speech of the day, ineffectually sought to divide the Federal reserve districts inot four geographical divisions.

President Wilson's Attitude.

President Wilson does not consider the recommendations by the Chicago conference of bankers as representing the view of the rank and file of bankers throughout the country. He indicated today to callers general opposition to the various proposals of the Chicago conference, though he has not examined them in detail.

The President told callers he had received expressions of hearty support for the administration bill, not only from business men generally, but from the rank and file of bankers throughout the country, and would not compromise on its essential features.

Late today the House caucus overwhelmingly voted down an amendment to abolish the advisory board of bankers, provision for which was incorporated in the administration bill to meet the criticism that the bankers were being ignored.

Secretary McAdoo tonight issued the following statement concerning his recent conference with George McReynolds, of Chicago, at New York:

"My attention has been called to the following statement attributed to Mr. McReynolds: 'I spent yesterday with Secretary McAdoo in New York, and we talked about the bill and our objections to it, and he assured me that the administration desired to do all in its power in remedying the defects of which we have complained.'

"I do not believe McReynolds made this statement. What I said to him at our conference in New York was that any constructive suggestions or criticisms submitted by the bankers with reference to currency legislation, would, I was sure, be carefully considered by the committees of Congress, and the President, if submitted to them. Any statement or inference that I have made any promise of any sort to bankers or any one else with respect to currency legislation is unfounded."

"THE FIRST BLOOD DRAWN."

Editor Whitehead on Subject of Convicts and Pipe Dream Railroads.

(Fruit Grower and Truckers' Journal.)

We have "drawn the first blood" in the fight against working the State's convicts on irresponsible short line railroads, as shown by the action of the Council of State at Raleigh on the 11th inst., when the squad of convicts that has been working for a year or longer on Col. Jones' South Atlantic & Western or Transcontinental Pipe Dream Railroad in Western North Carolina, was wiindrawn. This paper, and the people of North Carolina, will never discontinue their fight against this system until the last convict is withdrawn from such questionable methods and deals on every other railroad in the State, unless they pay in good and lawful money of the United States a fair price for such labor, or the last convict is put on the public roads for their construction and maintenance.

It was shown several weeks ago that the State was in debt something like $95,500, and running deeper and deeper in debt every day, as the result of this misguided policy and before now this sum has undoubtedly exceeded the $100,000 mark. For this extravagance of the people's money the penitentiary authorities and their bondsmen should be held accountable. The last General Assembly was face to face with a startling deficit in the State finances and how it has been bridged over only a few really know. Bonds have been sold and offered for sale, but these bonds have to be paid for in the end by the sweat and blood of the toiling masses, and it should be brought to a halt.

The Journal has advices that this system of mulcting the public got its start at the 1911 Legislature more than a year ago—and we are not going to stop until the whole chapter in the case from beginning to end has the searchlight of a careful investigation turned on it. If any such deals have been authorized or legislative acts have been gerrymandered through the State Legislature, then the people are entitled to know who voted for such policies and who "put them over." The cry is going up all over the State for good roads and better roads, and for their construction and maintenance by the State's convicts. Indeed, this demand will never be appeased until this step has been taken and the whole transaction for hiring the convicts out has been repudiated and investigated.

A typical illustration of how this vicious system has operated to the disadvantage of farmers in North Carolina is forcibly brought out by the remarks of Mr. T. J. Armstrong, a member of the Pender County Board of Commissioners, in a letter printed elsewhere in this issue, showing among other things that in instances where he was compelled to build a special piece of roadway in that county, he had to go out in the country and hire the help in competition with farmers at a time when this help was needed most in the fields and at an increased cost, which forced the farmer to pay higher wages for the same help on and after that time. Verily, there is little wonder that this demand for working the convicts on public roads is at this time stirring the State from center to circumference. We have waged this fight fast and furious for several weeks, and propose to continue the fighting until the desired result is accomplished.

WOMAN CAUSES SHOOTING.

Boardman Negroes Fall Out Over Dusky Damsel—One May Die.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Boardman, N. C., Aug. 25.—Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock, while returning from church, Zion Lennon and Wade Lennon, both colored, became involved in a dispute about a woman and Wade Lennon pulled his gun and snapped it at Zion four or five times, only one cartridge firing, and it went wild, just missing another negro, Robert Melvin.

Wade followed Zion home where Zion armed himself with a double-barrel shotgun and told Wade to travel along, which he refused to do, and continued to snap his pistol at Zion, whereupon Zion emptied the contents of one barrel into Wade's abdomen. He was taken to the James Walker Memorial Hospital at Wilmington, where it was thought he would die. Zion skipped and up to 10 o'clock this morning had not been apprehended. From all evidence that the correspondent can gather, it seems to have been a justifiable shooting.

ginia, (chairman) Cline, of Indina; Linthicum, of Maryland, Diefenderfer, Pennsylvania; Stedman, of North Carolina, Harrison, of Mississippi, Walker of Georgia, Cooper, of Wisconsin, and Temple, of Pennsylvania.

The conference adjourned a few minutes before 11 o'clock, after the President had read his message and listened to a free discussion for more than an hour. He had asked for suggestions and comments and nearly everyone present had something to say.

Later the President let it be known that there had been no suggestion that would necessitate any change in his plans and that unless word came from Mexico City to change in the situation there the message would be read to the joint session of the two houses of congress tomorrow.

Federals Attack Employes.

Washington, August 24.—State Department representatives today are telling of the attack by Mexican federals upon emploes of the Madera Lumber company, at Madera, Mexico, Mexico, said that Edmond Hayes, Jr., and a negro known as "Tom" were killed. General Cordoba, commanding the federal in that vicinity immediately arrested all of the men implicated in the attack according to the report.

Hays was killed, the consul at Chihuahua reported by a bandit named Castillo, who with about eighty men, recently had allied himself with the forces of General Cordoba. Urgent instructions were sent to the consul at Chihuahua to see to the "prompt and adequate punishment of those who committed this outrage on American citizens."

Protection of Citizens Assured.

Part of Castillo's band attacked the Babicora properties a little south of Medera, which are owned by Mrs. Phoeba Hearst. The employees defended the property successfully but during the fifht several were killed on each side. "The immediate and adequate protection" for this property has been determined by the department.

The American embassy at Mexico City has been instructed tosist upon the apprehensian and punishment of 23 independent guerillas who killed Ben Griffen, an American citizen, and assaulted another, Archer F. Parks, near Madera.

To prevent a threatened outbreak of smallpox, typhoid fever and scarlet fever at Torreon, in the vicinity of which there has been severe fighting recently, the embassy at Mexico City today was ordered to dispatch a special mission under charge of Dr. Edward W. Ryan with medical supplies.

Uneasiness on the Border.

El Centro, Calif., Aug. 25.—An attack by Mexican rebels on the Federal force at Sharps Heading, in-take from the Colorado river of the irrigation system for the Imperial Valley, caused great uneasiness on the American side of the border today, and a request for troops was wired to Washington. One man was rportd killdbo ington. One man was reported killed in the fight. The Federal garrison at Mexicali was held in readiness to repel any attack.

Federal authorities at Mexicali have made extensive preparations to combat a genera uprising in lower California representatives have been current recently that the arrival of Sonora constitutionalists was awaited as a signal for another outbreak.

Lind to Leave Mexico.

Mexico City Aug. 25.—President Wilson's personal representative John Lind will leave the Mexican capital tomorrow proceeding to Vera Cruz. Mr. Lind called on Foreign Minister Camboa today to say good bye, but there was nothing in their conversation regarding the irsumption of negotiations o rto indicate that Mexico would recede from her position.

Mr. Lind will sail from Vera Cruz at an early date, presumably on a battleship. It is expected that William Hale, who has been in Mexico City, in an official capacity, will accompany Mr. Lind or leave soon afterward.

Rumors persist that General Trevino who has been summoned to the capital, will become provisional president, but confirmation is lacking, and this report is offset by another that General Huerta has called in most of the retired officers and many of those on detached service to report for duty.

General Felix Diaz who started for Japan as special Mexican ambassador, also is said to have received a summons to return to the capital.

fight above Guaymas was resumed at Guaymas Fighting Resumed.

Hermosillo, Mexico, Aug. 25.—The sunrise today by the federals. Throughout the night canading from Empalme was continued upon the insurgent positions in surrounding hills.

Details o ftoday's battle show a determined effort of the Huerta government troops to invade Central Sonora. Three advances were repulsed according to the state reports. The rebels fire, however, failed to silence the cannon at Empalme.

Federal Cavalry assisted by marines from the gunboat Tampico made the first charge. After first assembling nearly 2,000 men another advance was attempted and failed.

Victory for Constitutionalists.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The Constitutionalist agency here tonight received the following telegram from J. Sanchez Ascona, Secretary of State of Sonora:

"Advices report our troops compelled Federals to retreat into Guaymas. Cannonading decreasing, but battle probably will be renewed in the morning. All going well."

Mysterious Disappearances.

Mexico City, Mex., Aug. 25.—Mexican government officials today denied having any knowledge of the death of Sereapio Rendon and Bordes Mangel, two deputies who recently dropped from sight. Renden was said to have been shot to death by Federal soldiers in a suburb of the capital, on August 22nd, and Mangel two days previously. Officials today accounted for their disappearance with the theory that they had joined the rebel forces.

Mexicans and foreign residents manifest great uneasiness over the possible development in the situation through the presentation of President Wilson's message to Congress, but the government is uncommunicative.

American Rancher Arrested.

Douglas, Ariz., Aug. 25. — Stuart Hunt, an American ranch owner and a cattle man of Sonora, with two of his cowboys, were arrested today at Fronteras, charged with being an enemy of the Sonora State government. They were imprisioned by order of Jose Maytorena, the insurgent governor.

Hunt was arrested because of a cattle deal. He is charged with having bought from a wealthy Mexican Federal sympathizer cattle that had been seized by the State government.

The Americans' offense consisted in not dealing with the State government direct.

FACE BROKEN OUT?

Pimples Replaced by Smooth, Clear Skin.

Ugly pimples and blotches not only disfigure the face but cause unpleasant comments.

They are a form of eczema and will not yield to "beauty preparations" but demand rational treatment.

It was in just such conditions that our new soothing, antiseptic skin remedy, Saxo Salve, first proves its great value. Apply it as directed on going to bed—only a few treatments are necessary to show its marvelous healing power.

A remarkable feature that gives special value to Saxo Salve, is its ability to penetrate the skin and carry its healing, germ-destroying action to the very seat of the disease.

We give back your money if Saxo Salve does not satisfy you fully. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

P. S. Skin eruptions and poor blood usually co-exist in all run-down conditions. We guarantee Vinol to purify and enrich the blood.

BITS OF HISTORY

RICHARD III AND HENRY VII

At the Battle of Bosworth Field, August 22, 1485, Richard II was slain and the Earl of Richmond, who had long been impatient for the Crown, was crowned on the battlefield and became Henry VII.

Richard had worn his brilliant crown into battle and had become a shining mark for his foes which cost him his life.

People often parade their jewels or their money and in this way become shining marks for their enemies. Display of wealth by excessive jewel wearing and the exhibition of money is vulgar and dangerous. Well bred persons accumulate wealth quietly and later enjoy it unostentatiously. Are you accumulating?
